VOTING RIGHTS PASSED

Solons Override Governor's Veto

The Legislature Thursday overrode Gov. Frank Morrison's first veto of the 1965 session, and enacted into law a bill to restore the Kennard Home at 1627 H as a Nebraska Statehood Memorial.

Sen. Fern Hubbard Orme's motion to pass the measure, LB609, notwithstanding the governor's objections, carried on a 30-7 vote. It needed a minimum of 30 to override.

Morrison had stated in his veto message that the property is "not of sufficient historical significance to warrant the expenditure of extensive public funds."

The governor had also pointed to the fact that the bill did not include appropriations for restoration of the home.

Mrs. Orme said costs involved in the project have been reduced to $58,950, and appropriations will be supplied in a pending budget bill.

"It is our one tie to the beginning of state government," she told her colleagues in urging adoption of LB609. Mrs. Orme noted that it was exactly 98 years ago to the day that Lincoln was chosen as the site of the state capital by a selection committee which included Thomas P. Kennard.

Voting to uphold the governor's veto were Sens. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, Albert Kjar of Lexington, Frank Nelson of O'Neill, Chet Paxton of Thedford, Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, George Syas of Omaha, and William Wylie of Elgin.

The bill had originally been approved on a 37-8 vote.

Seek Billiard Table For Kennard House

By MARY REIFSCHNEIDER
Star Staff Writer

A Victorian billiard table is one of the items the State Historical Society is seeking for the refurnishing of the Kennard House, Lincoln's oldest dwelling.

The house located at 1627 H, which was recently designated Thursday as a Nebraska Statehood Memorial, was built in 1869 by Thomas P. Kennard, the first secretary of State and one of three commissioners who chose Lincoln as the capital.

The Society found that the Kennards had a billiard table while checking their personal tax returns.

$525 Valuation

Marvin Kivett, Society director, said the 1880 return listed the assessed valuation of the furnishings at $525. Other items listed included a sewing machine and piano, Kivett said.

Kivett said little is known about the original furnishings in the home; many were sold at an auction. He said its possible some of the original furnishings may be in the Lincoln area that were sold at the auction or that descendants of Kennard may still have some pieces.

"We have enough period pieces of furniture to take care of most of the house, though we'll be checking for any authentic pieces the Kennards owned," Kivett said.

Sound

Structurally the house seems to be sound, Kivett said. Early pictures indicate that the fireplace has been relocated; this will be restored.

The south wing on the house, apparently where the original kitchen was located, cannot be rebuilt because appropriations have been reduced from about $110,000 to about $59,000, Kivett said.

He said the woodwork and staircase were in good shape, though paint would have to be removed from the woodwork.

Bathrooms Added

The two upstairs bathrooms were added in 1923 and 1941. Kivett said the 1923 one will be removed and the other will possibly stay, depending on how the widow's walk on the roof is restored.

Access to the widow's walk originally was through the area the second bathroom now occupies

Sold In 1887

The Kennards sold the house in 1887 to the Ferguson family who owned it until 1961 when the state bought it. The Fergusons remodeled the house, adding semi-colonial features.

Kivett said the colonial front door, colonial windows on the southend will be restored and the front porch will be readded. Outside Victorian trimmings will also be restored.

One room will be used for exhibitions, sketching the highlights of state government in the past 100 years. Originally the restored wing was to house the exhibition, but a bedroom might be used for this now.

Kivett said his staff is looking for people who attended the auction and pictures showing an east view of the house before the south wing was demolished.

The house is scheduled to open by March, 1967 when the centennial begins. Kivett said once the house is opened, more information will probably be found.

TRACTOR DAY . . .

17,600 See Exhibits At Mead Lab

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Mead — Chancellor Clifford Hardin of the University of Nebraska welcomed a record-breaking crowd of 17,600 Thursday to the 14th annual Tractor Power and Safety Day.

While the crowd gave careful appraisal to the 61 new tractor models on display, the automated irrigation systems and the narrow row farming equipment, it was a 50-year-old Eclipse steam engine owned by Harry Martinson of Swedeburg that drew big crowds.

The history of tractor days—the first was held in 1952 under the direction of the late Prof. L. W. Hurlbut — has been one of ever increasing crowds. Three years ago when the event outgrew the East Campus and moved to the Mead Field Laboratory the attendance was 12,000. Last year a record attendance of 15,000 was established only to once again be bested by Thursday's crowd which watched the demonstrations and visited the many exhibits of the one-day show.

23 States Represented

Major farm equipment firms have long termed the event one of the "best places to unveil new equipment" and a check of outstate attendance found 23 states represented at this year's Tractor Day.

Even in a year unusual for abundant rainfall, farmers were giving special attention to one of the largest exhibits of automated irrigation equipment ever assembled.

"This is the time to plan for irrigation, because we know that we can't figure on timely rains every year," said a farmer.

For the first time at Tractor Day the airplane had a place among farm machinery.

Rollin D. Schnieder, state farm safety specialist, says this position has been rightfully earned by planes and helicopters with the ever-increasing number of jobs that are being done from the air on the state's farms and ranches.

Farmers visiting Tractor Day were advised that corn, sorghum and soybean plantings at the NU Field Laboratory have been switched from 40-inch to 30-inch rows.

No Research

NU spokesmen said the purpose for this switch to narrow row plantings was made because no research on a large scale was being carried out in Nebraska on the practice.

Factors that favored the narrow row plantings are: shade is provided on the ground between rows at an earlier date, reducing weed growth; the canopy of plants and leaves breaks up the beating rain, and shading leaves reduces evaporation rate.

Predictions that possibly even bigger crowds are in store for Tractor Day came during this year's program when the announcement was made that preparations would begin immediately at the Field Laboratory to host the 1967 National Grasslands Show that attracts an international list of exhibits and attendance.

Visitors to the NU Field Laboratory were liberal with their praise for the management of details that afforded easy parking and facilities designed for a large attendance.

Two Charged In Georgia Killing

. . . MARINE ENLISTEE'S DEATH CLIMAXES AMERICUS TURMOIL

Americus, Ga. (AP) — Two Negro men were charged with murder Thursday in the street slaying of a white youth in a bloody climax to ten days of demonstrations.

Gov. Carl E. Sanders dispatched about 100 state troopers to this southwest Georgia town and directed the state attorney general to begin immediately an investigation of racial problems in two counties that are targets in a Negro voter drive.

"I will not stand for any further violence of any kind," Sanders said in a statement dictated to his capitol office in Atlanta from the national governors conference in Minneapolis.

Slaying Senseless

Sanders said the slaying of Andrew Haultman Whatley Jr., 21-year-old Marine Corps enlistee, was appalling and senseless. The governor called for a halt to street protests and pledged that voter rights would be protected but only through legal avenues. He said that not a single protest about voter registration or voting had been received by state officials.

Negro leaders, who called a 24-hour suspension of demonstrations following the slaying about midnight Wednesday, said the two men arrested in the killing had no connection with the civil rights movement.

First - degree murder charges were lodged against Eddie Will Lamar and Charlie Lee Hopkins, both of Americus and both in their early 20s. They were ordered held for grand jury action at a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace J. W. Southwell.

Reconvene Order

Judge Emeritus Cleveland Rees of superior court ordered the grand jury reconvened Monday to consider the slaying.

Police Chief Ross M. Chambliss said that two police officers were near the scene when the shooting occurred about three blocks from the Sumter County Courthouse where 250 Negroes had begun a night vigil protesting the arrest of four Negro women last week in a whites-only voting line.

In his report, the police chief said the two officers saw a group of men at a street intersection. "They also noticed that objects were being thrown by bystanders at a car traveling north."

"Suddenly two shots rang out from the civilian car and as the car sped off," the chief said, "a bystander fired several times at the car."

Speeder Crashes

The police car chased the speeding auto which crashed several blocks away. Chambliss said Lamar was driving but fled the wrecked car on foot and was found in bushes nearby. Hopkins escaped but was taken into custody three hours later.

Whatley, the victim, a 6-foot-2, 200-pound youth, had left a movie theater where he worked as a projectionist a short time before. Whatley enlisted in the Marine Corps a week ago and was awaiting orders to report for training.

A Negro leader, Hosea Williams of the Southern Christian leadership conference, said in Atlanta that he could not believe two Negroes would have the nerve to shoot down a white man.

'Helluva Mess'

"It's a helluva mess," said Williams, who has been directing the Negro drive in Americus. He said he was trying to locate Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., SCLC president who was on a Northern trip.

"We can't stop the movement," Williams said. "But there will be no more night vigils."

The four Negro women arrested last week for trying to desegregate a white polling line remained in the county jail. They have refused bond put up by local businessmen.

U.S. District Judge W. A. Bootle of Macon issued an order Wednesday for the sheriff and other officials to appear at a hearing Friday to show cause why he should not enjoin them from segregation practices and the confinement of the four women.

Unicam Indecisive On Trade Schools

. . . MAY RECONSIDER BILLS

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Efforts were launched in the Legislature Thursday afternoon to overturn major trade school decisions enacted into law earlier in the day.

Lawmakers had passed three major bills, one creating a new state vocational technical school at Sidney and two providing for area trade schools borne of local initiative and assisted by a measure of state financing.

Defeated on final reading were bills calling for the establishment of new state trade schools at North Platte and Norfolk.

Four of Five

Four of the five measures (see story on Page 9) now face motions to reconsider. Decisions on the motions were delayed at least a day by common consent.

Sen. William Skarda of Omaha asked that the Sidney measure, LB176, be subjected to another vote on final reading.

LB176 had barely passed on a 26-10 vote. It needed 25 votes, the same number which will be required to return it to final reading for another showdown.

Needs 30 Votes

Sen. George Syas of Omaha requested reconsideration of LB480, proposing a school at North Platte. His motion will require 30 votes.

LB480 had fallen three votes short of enactment on a 22-12 vote.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff asked reconsideration of LB512, the Norfolk bill, and LB482, the measure providing financing for area trade schools.

LB512 Fared Poorly

LB512 had fared poorly on final reading, failing on a 17-21 vote. LB482 had passed on a 31-14 count.

Thirty votes will be required to reconsider the Norfolk proposal, and25 will be needed to return LB 482 to final reading.

Only trade school bill left untouched was LB581, establishing the concept of area schools. It had been passed on a 36-8 vote.

'Same People'

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington noted that the efforts to overturn the Legislature's decisions were launched by "the same people who are trying to defeat LB797," the state income tax law.

Sidney, he said, won "a clear-cut and honest victory" and that decision should not be changed.

Kjar said he voted against all three state trade school bills because "we've spent enough money for this session."

Not Favorable

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth said this indication of indecision will not be viewed favorably by Nebraskans.

"It is very unfair and unjust," Sen. George Fleming of Sidney declared.

Fleming warned that the U.S. Army will move some of its equipment from the Sioux Army Depot at Sidney, site of the proposed new vocational technical school, if the Legislature does not abide by its earlier decision

Earlier Indecision

Thursday's events are only the culmination of earlier legislative indecision on the trade school issue, Syas said.

"We finally have to come to the trough, and maybe we will finally have to take a drink," he said.

House, Senate Agree

. . . LAST OK NEXT

Washington (AP) — Senate-House conferees agreed Thursday on a bill to protect Negro voting rights in the South but only after dropping a provision outlawing the poll tax in state and local elections.

The compromise measure must be accepted by both chambers but this is regarded as a foregone conclusion and final passage probably will come next week.

The heart of the bills voted by both Senate and House provides for the elimination of literacy tests for voters in several states and for the appointment of federal registrars.

Ban Refuse.

The Senate refused to outlaw all poll taxes and provided instead that the attorney general promptly challenge these laws in court. The House voted a statutory ban but accepted the Senate approach in the sixth session between the two groups of conferees.

Enactment of the legislation, which received strong impetus from last spring's demonstrations at Selma, Ala., will give President Johnson another of his major legislative objectives.

Under the coverage formula, the bill would apply automatically to Alabama, Alaska, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Virginia, 34 counties in North Carolina and to one county each in Arizona, Idaho and Maine. These were designated because in the 1964 elections less than half of the adult population was registered or voted.

Federal Examiners

In these areas literacy tests and similar voter qualification devices would be suspended and federal examiners could be appointed to register voters.

In face of the House's ban on state poll taxes, the conferees accepted the Senate provision directing the attorney general to bring an immediate court test of their constitutionality.

Alabama, Mississippi, Virginia and Texas are the only states that make poll tax payments a condition to voting in state and local elections. A constitutional amendment has barred them as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

Architect Proposes Parking Mall For Active, Busy Look On 'O' St.

By WAYNE KREUSCHER
Star Staff Writer

A Lincoln architect, asked by the city to study plans for an O St. mall, said Thursday that he was in favor of a parking mall on O between 10th and 15th

Lawrence Enersen, who spoke at a meeting of Lincoln businessmen called by Mayor Dean Petersen, said that a parking mall would condense space and make Lincoln's mall an active and busy place.

"If we simply closed the street into great paved area," he said, "people would get lost in it and it would lose the busy quality that an attractive, busy street has It would bleed to death if it was too large "

But, he pointed out, if it were made into a parking mall, it would appear to be a busy place "rather than a great, aching void."

Width Problem

He said that Lincoln had a width problem as far as making O St. into a mall because the street is 120 ft. wide and something besides trees, shrubs, covered areas and fountains would be needed to fill the space.

Enersen's plans for a parking mall would make each of the separate five blocks an enclosed plaza with a fountain or covered area in the middle and parking places for eight cars and an unloading area on both sides of the center area.

This would mean a total of 80 parking places inside the entire five-block mall. Trees and shubbery would be scattered throughout the area.

Slightly More Space

Enersen said that the parking mall would provide slightly more parking space than what is already along O St. He and Mayor Petersen also pointed out that for a successful mall additional parking is definitely necessary.

Enersen explained that all cross streets between the five blocks of plazas would remain open and would probably be tied into a one-way street system. He said that buses could pick up people at the end of the plazas if necessary.

The two other possible plans for a mall, he said, were a pedestrian and transient mall. The pedestrian mall would include a larger plaza with no vehicles or traffic except for emergency vehicles.

The transient mall, he said, would allow buses and emergency vehicles. He explained that with the transient mall a bus could turn around a center area and pick up passengers.

Might Seem Vacant

He stressed the fact that with O St. being so wide a pedestrian mall with little activity might seem vacant and very unbusy.

Enersen said that all the different plans for a mall would cost approximately $150,000 per block and that a total cost of $6,500 would be needed for maintenance of the complete mall.

Douglas Brogden, director of the City-County Planning Commission, said that a mall would be advantageous to Lincoln.

Brogden said that a mall would permit more business because it would permit more circulation of pedestrian traffic, that it would make the downtown area more attractive and that it would make the downtown area a focal point.

Unicam Indecisive On Trade Schools

. . . MAY RECONSIDER BILLS

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Efforts were launched in the Legislature Thursday afternoon to overturn major trade school decisions enacted into law earlier in the day.

Lawmakers had passed three major bills, one creating a new state vocational technical school at Sidney and two providing for area trade schools borne of local initiative and assisted by a measure of state financing.

Defeated on final reading were bills calling for the establishment of new state trade schools at North Platte and Norfolk.

Four of Five

Four of the five measures (see story on Page 9) now face motions to reconsider. Decisions on the motions were delayed at least a day by common consent.

Sen. William Skarda of Omaha asked that the Sidney measure, LB176, be subjected to another vote on final reading.

LB176 had barely passed on a 26-10 vote. It needed 25 votes, the same number which will be required to return it to final reading for another showdown.

Needs 30 Votes

Sen. George Syas of Omaha requested reconsideration of LB480, proposing a school at North Platte. His motion will require 30 votes.

LB480 had fallen three votes short of enactment on a 22-12 vote.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff asked reconsideration of LB512, the Norfolk bill, and LB482, the measure providing financing for area trade schools.

LB512 Fared Poorly

LB512 had fared poorly on final reading, failing on a 17-21 vote. LB482 had passed on a 31-14 count.

Thirty votes will be required to reconsider the Norfolk proposal, and25 will be needed to return LB 482 to final reading.

Only trade school bill left untouched was LB581, establishing the concept of area schools. It had been passed on a 36-8 vote.

'Same People'

Sen. Albert Kjar of Lexington noted that the efforts to overturn the Legislature's decisions were launched by "the same people who are trying to defeat LB797," the state income tax law.

Sidney, he said, won "a clear-cut and honest victory" and that decision should not be changed.

Kjar said he voted against all three state trade school bills because "we've spent enough money for this session."

Not Favorable

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth said this indication of indecision will not be viewed favorably by Nebraskans.

"It is very unfair and unjust," Sen. George Fleming of Sidney declared.

Fleming warned that the U.S. Army will move some of its equipment from the Sioux Army Depot at Sidney, site of the proposed new vocational technical school, if the Legislature does not abide by its earlier decision.

Earlier Indecision

Thursday's events are only the culmination of earlier legislative indecision on the trade school issue, Syas said.

"We finally have to come to the trough, and maybe we will finally have to take a drink," he said.

Architect Proposes Parking Mall For Active, Busy Look On 'O' St.

By WAYNE KREUSCHER
Star Staff Writer

A Lincoln architect, asked by the city to study plans for an O St. mall, said Thursday that he was in favor of a parking mall on O between 10th and 15th.

Lawrence Enersen, who spoke at a meeting of Lincoln businessmen called by Mayor Dean Petersen, said that a parking mall would condense space and make Lincoln's mall an active and busy place.

"If we simply closed the street into great paved area," he said, "people would get lost in it and it would lose the busy quality that an attractive, busy street has. It would bleed to death if it was too large."

But, he pointed out, if it were made into a parking mall, it would appear to be a busy place "rather than a great, aching void."

Width Problem

He said that Lincoln had a width problem as far as making O St. into a mall because the street is 120 ft. wide and something besides trees, shrubs, covered areas and fountains would be needed to fill the space.

Enersen's plans for a parking mall would make each of the separate five blocks an enclosed plaza with a fountain or covered area in the middle and parking places for eight cars and an unloading area on both sides of the center area.

This would mean a total of 80 parking places inside the entire five-block mall. Trees and shubbery would be scattered throughout the area.

Slightly More Space

Enersen said that the parking mall would provide slightly more parking space than what is already along O St. He and Mayor Petersen also pointed out that for a successful mall additional parking is definitely necessary.

Enersen explained that all cross streets between the five blocks of plazas would remain open and would probably be tied into a one-way street system. He said that buses could pick up people at the end of the plazas if necessary.

The two other possible plans for a mall, he said, were a pedestrian and transient mall. The pedestrian mall would include a larger plaza with no vehicles or traffic except for emergency vehicles.

The transient mall, he said, would allow buses and emergency vehicles. He explained that with the transient mall a bus could turn around a center area and pick up passengers.

Might Seem Vacant

He stressed the fact that with O St. being so wide a pedestrian mall with little activity might seem vacant and very unbusy.

Enersen said that all the different plans for a mall would cost approximately $150,000 per block and that a total cost of $6,500 would be needed for maintenance of the complete mall.

Douglas Brogden, director of the City-County Planning Commission, said that a mall would be advantageous to Lincoln.

Brogden said that a mall would permit more business because it would permit more circulation of pedestrian traffic, that it would make the downtown area more attractive and that it would make the downtown area a focal point.

Paratroops Follow B52 Bombs With Little Luck

. . . FRESH BRIGADE ARRIVES AT CAM RANH

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Paratroopers of the U S 173rd Airborne Brigade hunted for Viet Cong across a hilly sector 35 miles southeast of Saigon with little luck Thursday in the wake of a new saturation bombing by B52 jets

Though 5,000 or more hardcore guerrillas were believed to have been based in the area, the official report late Thursday showed little contact: one Viet Cong killed. One captured. No American losses.

Several thousand men of the 173rd, who landed in May, took part in the sweep as 3,700 fresh paratroopers—the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne (Screaming Eagles) Division — landed at Cam Ranh Bay, a coastal base about 200 miles to the north.

Newcomers

The newcomers boost to about 79,000 the roll of U.S. military men in Viet Nam, which is due to rise shortly under President Johnson's newly announced policy to 125,000. They were welcomed by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the retiring U.S. ambassador, who commanded the Screaming Eagles of Normandy and Bastogne fame in World War II.

The strike by the B52s was their sixth of the war, all in the last five weeks. Twenty-five of the long-range, eight-engine craft dumped 500 tons of bombs on the suspected Viet Cong hideouts after a 1,650-mile flight from Okinawa. They had taken shelter Wednesday on Okinawa from the threat of a typhoon at Guam, their regular base.

Though always hopeful a concentration of guerrillas will be wiped out, briefing officers have taken to referring to the B52 raids as "harassing operations against known centers of Viet Cong activity." Ground surveys have never proved them to be highly destructive to Viet Cong personnel.

Listening Posts

The guerrillas have an extensive system of listening posts and presumably may get warning of approaching planes in time to duck into their tunnels or disperse.

North of the border, a U.S. RF101 photo reconnaissance jet was shot down and its pilot was presumed killed while photographing one of the two Hanoi area missile sites blasted in a 46-plane raid Tuesday

A companion plane on the same mission escaped

A U.S. military spokesman, in announcing the loss, said he believed a conventional weapon was responsible; it was "definitely not a missile."

Pursuing a psychological warfare campaign, four U S. Air Force F105 jets dropped 815,000 leaflets over three North Vietnamese towns.

Air traffic over South Viet Nam also was heavy. U.S. spokesman said U.S. Air Force and Navy planes were estimated to have killed 249 Viet Cong and destroyed 238 guerrilla structures in a 24-hour period of Wednesday and Thursday.

Food Price Rise Boosts Living Cost

Washington (AP) — A sharp rise in food prices forced living costs up another half-cent on the dollar in June for the biggest monthly increase in a year, the government said Thursday.

Soaring meat prices—as much as 10.5%—led the overall two per cent hike in food costs to boost the Labor Department's consumer price index to 110.1, an increase of five-tenths of one per cent.

The June increase also rounded out a one per cent hike in the second quarter of 1965, the largest three-month rise since 1957.

Typical Goods

The index shows it took $11.01 in June to purchase typical consumer goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

The consumer's dollar in June was worth 90.8 cents compared with 91 2 cents in May.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, emphasized there is no evidence that government farm labor policy caused any of the price increase for meat, fruit and vegetables.

The Labor Department has been under fire from some agricultural interests for insisting on the replacement of foreign farm workers with U.S. citizens at higher wages.

Short Supplies

Chase said short supplies caused meat price boosts of 10.5% for pork, 5.5% for beef and 7% for poultry.

Potatoes, also in short supply, went up 10% and a temporary shortage boosted lettuce prices. But prices for tomatoes, green peppers and cucumbers went down.

Food prices usually go up in June, but the increase generally averages seven-tenths of one per cent compared with last month's two per cent.

Shipyard Opens

Alexandria, Egypt (AP) — Egypt opened what it claims is the biggest shipyard in the Middle East, a $37 million complex built with Russian aid and equipment. The yard is designed to build 20,000-ton tankers, small naval vessels and 13,000-ton freighters.

LBJ To Sign Medicare With Truman

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson will sign the $6.5 billion Medicare and Social Security bill Friday at Independence, Mo., in the presence of former President Harry S. Truman who pioneered the concept of health care for the elderly.

Johnson will sign the bill, which the Senate gave final congressional approval on Wednesday, in the auditorium of the Truman Library. Members of Congress and others closely connected with the legislation will be looking on.

The White House announced the President's plans late Thursday after he won assurances from representatives of the American Medical Association (AMA), long hostile to Medicare, that the nation's doctors would support the revolutionary new program.

To Kansas City

The White House said Johnson and his party would fly to Kansas City, after lunch Friday for the signing at about 2:30 p.m CST.

A spokesman said the President, who had talked to Truman frequently in recent weeks about the Viet Nam situation, had wanted for some time to sit down with the former chief executive to discuss a number of foreign and domestic matters.

Johnson was expected to do so before ending his visit late Friday. He last saw Truman personally last month in Independence on his way to United Nations anniversary ceremonies at San Francisco.

Democrats regard Truman as a pioneer, if not the father, of comprehensive federal health programs, which he proposed in a message to Congress on Dec 9. 1945 One suggestion—prepayment for medical costs through Social Security taxes. was not embraced by Congress until this year

Truman's other basic proposals have since become law —the Hill-Burton hospital construction act, maternal and child health services, federal assistance for medical education, and research and disability insurance.

At the White House Thursday, a special 11-member task force of the AMA conferred with Johnson about the new Medicare program. Afterward, one of his visitors pledged the support of AMA members.

"We are all law-abiding citizens with every intention of complying with the law," said Dr. Percy E. Hopkins, chairman of the AMA board of trustees, after the meeting.

Several Women Considered For Supreme Court Vacancy

Washington (AP) — President Johnson disclosed Thursday he considered several women for the latest Supreme Court vacancy—and he implied he still may make such a landmark appointment.

The vacancy was filled Wednesday by Johnson's appointment of Abe Fortas, prominent Washington attorney and longtime friend and adviser to the President.

Speaking on the White House south lawn to some 400 representatives of the Governors' Commissions on the Status of Women, Johnson said he didn't select a woman this time "because when I do I want it to be absolutely without question the best person —male or female—available for the post."

Judges Considered

It is known that the names of at least two prominent women judges had been suggested to the President for the vacancy left on the Supreme Court when Arthur J. Goldberg was named U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations.

One is U.S. District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Texas, who swore Johnson in as president after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. The other is Judge Lorna Lockwood of the Arizona State Supreme Court.

The commission delegates from 44 states were taking a White House break from conference sessions, and the President shook hands with a number of them.

Outgrowth Of First

The state commissions they represent were an outgrowth of Kennedy's presidential commission on the status of women, once headed by the late Eleanor Roosevelt, which sought to end discrimination and advance opportunities for women in America.

Johnson quipped that he's outnumbered 3 to 1 by women in his household, and there are times when he wishes "there were a commission on the status of men to submit some of my grievances to."

To date, Johnson said he has appointed 114 women "on the basis of merit" to major positions in the executive and judiciary departments of government and that almost 3,000 other women have been given appointments or promotions to the highest grades in federal career service.

Papandreou Can Beat Government In Voting

Athens (AP)—Fallen Premier George Papandreou won commitments Thursday from enough deputies to defeat Greece's crisis government in a parliamentary confidence vote.

But Premier George Athanasiadis Novas gave no indication he would give up his battle to obtain endorsement from the 300-member parliament.

And there was no sign that King Constantine was ready to retreat in the crisis that erupted two weeks ago when he fired Papandreou and appointed Athanasiadis Novas in a dispute over politics in the armed forces.

Papandreou whipped Center Unions Party deputies into line against the king's government at a party caucus in Athens. The deputies met to plan strategy for the confidence vote battle. Parliament meets in special session Friday, with the vote expected late next week

A Center Union spokesman said the caucus drew up a protocol denouncing the Athanasiadis Novas government. The spokesman said 118 of 120 deputies at the caucus signed it and that 25 more who did not attend adhered to it in telegrams.

With these 143 votes lined up against him, and 22 deputies of the pro-Communist United Democratic Left (EDA) party bound to vote against him, Athanasiadis Novas had no chance of getting more than 135 votes in parliament. He needs 151.

The two Center Union deputies who attended the caucus but refused to sign the protocol also appose Athanasiadis Novas. But they refused to go along with Papandreou. They said they wanted a solution to the crisis to be worked out immediately. Papandreou said that would be done at a future caucus, after Athanasiadis Novas falls.

Cambodia Claims Viets Violated Border Twice

One Cambodian was killed and another injured in the first incident, a communique said.

Bogalusa Officials Convicted

New Orleans (AP) — A federal judge Thursday convicted the top police officials of racially troubled Bogalusa of civil contempt for ignoring his orders to protect civil rights demonstrators.

Chief U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry ordered attorneys for the Congress of Racial Equality and the Department of Justice to prepare a decree outlining sanctions against Bogalusa Public Safety Commissioner Arnold Spiers and Police Chief Claxton Knight.

He told the prosecution attorneys to present the proposed decree to him at 10 a.m. Friday.

Criminal contempt charges are still pending against Spiers and Knight.

Judge Christenberry freed Washington Parish Deputy Sheriff Robert Vertrees Adams and Bogalusa City Police officers John Riley and Haynes Wascom of civil contempt They still face criminal contempt action.

"The chief of police, I'm sorry to say, and Commissioner Spiers, also . . . personally abdicated their authority and placed most of the burden on Col. (Tom) Burbank and the state police," the judge said.

Burbank is head of the state police.

Christenberry said local authorities have the primary duty of keeping order.

Spiers and Knight had been cited by the Justice Department for specifically violating Judge Christenberry's July 10 injunction when they allowed hostile whites to harass pickets at a shopping center on July 16 and July 17.

Christenberry said he considered it unfortunate that the incidents had happened and resulted in "publicity that most of the citizens do not deserve."

East German Family Slides West To Freedom

Berlin (AP)—In one of the boldest escapes of the cold war, an East German economist, his wife and their 9-year-old son slung themselves in a homemade cable harness from the roof of a heavily guarded Communist government building to the safety of West Berlin.

They came down over the barbed wire-topped wall Wednesday night from the top of the five-story "House of Ministries" where East German Premier Willie Stoph has offices. The long, grey structure is about 25 feet from the wall dividing East and West Berlin.

The family had help from people awaiting them in West Berlin. The woman was slightly hurt in the dramatic slide to freedom.

The West Berlin city government identified the family as Heinz Holzapfel, 33, his wife, Jutta, 32, and their son Guenter. The father is an economist from Leipzig.

The government press office said Holzapfel gave this account:

"I planned the escape for a year and a half. I was 80% certain that the plan would succeed, because everything had been well prepared, and besides I had helpers in West Berlin.

"Often I had occasion to visit the ministries building on business . . . but in the building itself I had no help"

Holzafel took his family into the building Wednesday and at 5 p.m. they went into an attic room, where they stayed until about 10 p.m.

The boy slept most of the time, and when it was time to get ready the father woke him with these words, "Now we are going to uncle. There you will get the bicycle we promised you. But first you must show your courage, because until now you have earned only the (bicycle's) turn signal and bell."

Boy Quiet

The boy remained quiet and "we went out of the room and onto the roof. It was pouring rain. We wanted to be across by 11 p.m. but it took much more time."

Holzapfel had a nylon-type cord about as thick as a tennis racket string tied to a hammer. His preparations were thorough. He had painted the hammer handle with phosphorous so that those waiting in West Berlin would see it when he threw it. So that it would make no noise when it landed, he had padded the hammer head.

Those in the West fastened a heavy cable to the hammer and Heinz and Jutta pulled it to them . . . taking all our strength"

"Now we were ready to begin the most dangerous part of our flight."

"We were all very quiet. Guenter was sent over first."

Axle Pulley

Holzapfel explained he had made a pulley out of a bicycle wheel axle, with a shoulder and waist harness slung underneath, the person hanging on to an attachment to the axle as it rolled down the cable.

"Then my wife went next. She was hurt as she landed, but thank God not seriously. She was only bruised."

It was 1:30 a.m. Thursday before Heinz himself came over. As he swept in over the Communist wall he dropped all his papers, which he was carrying, and they fell into East Berlin. All he had left was his identity card.

Other informants said that it was not until dawn, when the cable became clearly visible, that the Red guards surrounded the building.

On the Western end, the cable was fastened to an abandoned truck trailer lying in a field.

East German Family Slides West To Freedom

Berlin (AP)—In one of the boldest escapes of the cold war, an East German economist, his wife and their 9-year-old son slung themselves in a homemade cable harness from the roof of a heavily guarded Communist government building to the safety of West Berlin.

They came down over the barbed wire-topped wall Wednesday night from the top of the five-story "House of Ministries" where East German Premier Willie Stoph has offices. The long, grey structure is about 25 feet from the wall dividing East and West Berlin.

The family had help from people awaiting them in West Berlin. The woman was slightly hurt in the dramatic slide to freedom.

The West Berlin city government identified the family as Heinz Holzapfel, 33, his wife, Jutta, 32, and their son Guenter. The father is an economist from Leipzig.

The government press office said Holzapfel gave this account:

"I planned the escape for a year and a half. I was 80% certain that the plan would succeed, because everything had been well prepared, and besides I had helpers in West Berlin.

"Often I had occasion to visit the ministries building on business . . . but in the building itself I had no help."

Holzafel took his family into the building Wednesday and at 5 p.m. they went into an attic room, where they stayed until about 10 p.m.

The boy slept most of the time, and when it was time to get ready the father woke him with these words, "Now we are going to uncle. There you will get the bicycle we promised you. But first you must show your courage, because until now you have earned only the (bicycle's) turn signal and bell."

Boy Quiet

The boy remained quiet and "we went out of the room and onto the roof. It was pouring rain. We wanted to be across by 11 p.m. but it took much more time."

Holzapfel had a nylon-type cord about as thick as a tennis racket string tied to a hammer. His preparations were thorough. He had painted the hammer handle with phosphorous so that those waiting in West Berlin would see it when he threw it. So that it would make no noise when it landed, he had padded the hammer head.

Those in the West fastened a heavy cable to the hammer and Heinz and Jutta pulled it to them . . . taking all our strength."

"Now we were ready to begin the most dangerous part of our flight."

"We were all very quiet. Guenter was sent over first."

Axle Pulley

Holzapfel explained he had made a pulley out of a bicycle wheel axle, with a shoulder and waist harness slung underneath, the person hanging on to an attachment to the axle as it rolled down the cable.

"Then my wife went next. She was hurt as she landed, but thank God not seriously. She was only bruised."

It was 1:30 a.m. Thursday before Heinz himself came over. As he swept in over the Communist wall he dropped all his papers, which he was carrying, and they fell into East Berlin. All he had left was his identity card.

Other informants said that it was not until dawn, when the cable became clearly visible, that the Red guards surrounded the building.

On the Western end, the cable was fastened to an abandoned truck trailer lying in a field.

Promoting Aviation In Church Work, Mission Field Among Aims Of Priest Pilot Members

INSTRUMENT INSTRUCTION . . . for Fr. Carl Kurt, right, by Fr. Hemann.

Columbus — The wing was the thing, it seems, here this week.

Over 30 light aircraft nestled around the grounds of Columbus Airport like ducks on a pond.

It's probably as big a flock as the newly-modernized facility has seen.

Signifying a progressive step in the work of the church, the planes belong to members of the National Association of Priest Pilots holding their second annual convention here.

"We're interested in promoting aviation both in the church and as a hobby," explained acting Secretary Fr. Robert Wendeln.

From Maysville, Ky., Fr. Wendeln and airborne colleague Fr. Henry Haacke of Carrollton, Ky., originated the group last year. Ov r 400, from 40 states and 12 foreign countries, now claim association.

Primary business at the Columbus meeting, coordinated and hosted by Fr. Richard S. Ciurej, pastor of St. Stanislaus Church in Duncan, is concerned with "forming and adopting a constitution and electing officers," said Fr. Wendeln. The Very Rev. Abbot Charles Coriston of Newton, N.J., has served as acting president.

Tour SAC Quarters

Besides recreation and "shop talk," the priests were treated to a tour of SAC headquarters Thursday and a banquet closing the convention that evening.

With two priests and five laymen in their midst who are qualified instructors, 27 of the flyers spent Tuesday and Wednesday in qualifications for their Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association certificates in instrument navigation.

"They're all pretty good pilots," explained instructor Fr. Mel Hemann of Decorah, Ia., "but we want to increase proficiency." The students took sessions both in the air and on the ground for the instrument training.

Though most of the approximately 70 members in attendance fly mainly for pleasure, aircrafts are receiving more attention in the mission field, and promotion of this use is one of the objectives of the association.

The group initiated a drive to provide a Cessna Skywagon for interdenominational mission work in Kenya, Africa.

A notable figure at the convention and an honorary member of the association was Max Conrad, who piloted the Skywagon to Nairobi earlier this year on his record 125th solo Atlantic crossing.

Special Interest

Two aircraft received special attention by the priest pilots—an experimental small model and an ultramodern jet.

Fr. Hemann piloted the Wittman Tailwind, kit-built in over three years by Don Nordsving of Canton, Minn. "It's real tricky, but a lot of fun to fly," reported the veteran.

All eyes had to move fast as a sleek Lear Jet, the first jet to land at the Columbus field, sailed in with Fr. Richard E. Spellman at the controls.

The Albuquerque, N. Mex., clergyman has been taking jet instructions in Wichita and piloted the private jet here for scrutiny by the delegates.

The priest pilots, and several hundred spectators later watched was stomach-fluttering awe as Harold Krier of Wichita displayed the rolls, dives and belly-up stunts which made him a three-time aerobatic champion.

Beating, Rape Of Deaf-Mute Investigated

Omaha (UPI)—Federal authorities and police from Omaha, Bellevue and Council Bluffs were investigating Thursday the beating and rape of a deaf-mute Omaha woman.

Because of the victim's affliction, police have had difficulty communicating with the 21-year old married woman. Her husband is also a deaf-mute.

She wrote her story out for Bellevue police Wednesday night after being picked up just north of that city after the incident.

She wrote that she had been waiting for a bus near Playland Park in Council Bluffs Wednesday night when two men in a 1965 model car picked her up.

She described the men as white and in their 20s. One was described as about five-foot-nine and the other about six-foot-three.

She was driven to a gravel road somewhere between Omaha and Bellevue where she was assaulted and robbed of about $100.

A motorist picked her up just outside the Bellevue city limits about 8 p.m. She was shoeless. A doctor's examination confirmed that she had been raped.

Bellevue Police Chief Warren E. Robinson said the woman had been "handled very roughly." She was treated for bruises about the upper part of the body, the head and the legs.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation entered the case Thursday morning. The Omaha FBI office said agents will determine if there has been a federal violation.

Pleas In Abatement Attacking Jury Indictments Are Rejected

Omaha (AP) — District Judge John Murphy has rejected pleas in abatement attacking grand jury indictments against two former Omaha city councilmen and two others.

Real estate man Ronald Abboud was given 15 days to file a demurrer, the first legal step available to him to have the indictment dismissed before arraignment and trial

Ex-Councilman Ernest Adams and Stephen Novak and C. R. Buttner, former Planning Board member, were given 10 days to file demurrers

Judge Murphy noted that in the cases of Adams, Novak and Buttner, an issue raised by each — as ministerial officers were not liable — would be properly determined in the demurrer. The judge also listed a series of other legal conclusions.

Still pending before Judge Murphy is a demurrer challenging the indictment against former Mayor James Dworak.

The cases were filed in connection with a rezoning effort filed by Chicago promoter John B. Coleman. The City Council turned down his application for rezoning to build a $1.5 million apartment project in west Omaha. Coleman has said he hadn't determined what further steps would be taken.

Phony Doctor Jailed For Year

Omaha (AP)—Municipal Judge Eugene Leahy imposed a jail sentence of one year and fines totaling $1,500 Thursday on Albert Haynik, accused of being Omaha's phony doctor.

Haynik, 41, pleaded guilty to two charges of indecent, lewd and filthy acts and one of indecent exposure.

Haynik's arrest followed a search reaching back into 1962 for a man who called young women about possible jobs as receptionists or secretaries in hospitals of clinics. They complained that during his interviews he took improprieties and sometimes gave them physical examinations.

Additional Mill OKd By Council

Omaha (AP) — An additional mill, to raise an estimated $635,000, was approved by the City Council on a 4-3 vote as a 21.40 mill tax levy was adopted.

The additional mill was demanded by Omaha's new Mayor A. V. Sorensen as essential to his $31 million budget. The money from the added levy is to go into a trust fund for capital improvements that Sorensen said are essential to the city.

One cost expected to be met by the added levy is $125,000 for Papio Creek flood control.

Labor and business groups approved the Sorensen recommendation and the council turned down, 3-4, a motion to adopt the budget without the increase.

Compact Car, Truck Crash Killing Infant

Grand Island (AP) — A 3-weeks-old boy died in a Grand Island hospital Thursday of injuries suffered in the collision of a truck and a compact car on Highway 34, south of here.

The victim was identified as Brian Schlund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schlund of Grand Island.

Officers said the car driven by the infant's 19-year-old mother Patricia, and a gasoline transport were in collision at the junction with a private driveway.

Mrs. Schlund was reported in good condition at a hospital Thursday. Four other persons riding in the small car were released after treatment Wednesday night.

The driver of the truck, 40-year-old Earl G. Wilson of Grand Island, escaped injury.

Circuit Court Affirms Hoffa Conviction

Cincinnati, Ohio (AP)—The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed Thursday the conviction of International Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa on a charge of jury-tampering.

The affirmation also included the convictions of Thomas Ewing Parks, Nashville, Tenn.; Larry Campbell of Detroit, and Ewing King of Nashville.

They were convicted in the U.S. District Court at Chattanooga, Tenn., March 4, 1964, on charges of having attempted to rig a jury at Hoffa's earlier trial in Nashville on a conspiracy charge.

Hoffa was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000. King, Campbell and Parks each were sentenced to three years in prison.

The unanimous decision by Judges Paul C. Weick, Shackelford Miller Jr. and Lester Cecil was made in a 52-page opinion covering numerous alleged errors in the trial.

"Upon consideration of the record as a whole, we find no errors which affect the substantial rights of the appellants," the Opinion read.

Pleas In Abatement Attacking Jury Indictments Are Rejected

Omaha (AP) — District Judge John Murphy has rejected pleas in abatement attacking grand j ry indictments against two former Omaha city councilmen and two others.

Real estate man Ronald Abboud was given 15 days to file a demurrer, the first legal step available to him to have the indictment dismissed before arraignment and trial.

Ex-Councilman Ernest Adams and Stephen Novak and C. R. Buttner, former Planning Board member, were given 10 days to file demurrers.

Judge Murphy noted that in the cases of Adams, Novak and Buttner, an issue raised by each — as ministerial officers were not liable — would be properly determined in the demurrer. The judge also listed a series of other legal conclusions.

Still pending before Judge Murphy is a demurrer challenging the indictment against former Mayor James Dworak.

The cases were filed in connection with a rezoning effort filed by Chicago promoter John B. Coleman. The City Council turned down his application for rezoning to build a $1.5 million apartment project in west Omaha. Coleman has said he hadn't determined what further steps would be taken.

Additional Mill OKd By Council

Omaha (AP) — An additional mill, to raise an estimated $635,000, was approved by the City Council on a 4-3 vote as a 21.40 mill tax levy was adopted.

The additional mill was demanded by Omaha's new Mayor A. V. Sorensen as essential to his $31 million budget. The money from the added levy is to go into a trust fund for capital improvements that Sorensen said are essential to the city.

One cost expected to be met by the added levy is $125,000 for Papio Creek flood control.

Labor and business groups approved the Sorensen recommendation and the council turned down, 3-4, a motion to adopt the budget without the increase.

Phony Doctor Jailed For Year

Omaha (AP)—Municipal Judge Eugene Leahy imposed a jail sentence of one year and fines totaling $1,500 Thursday on Albert Haynik, accused of being Omaha's phony doctor.

Haynik, 41, pleaded guilty to two charges of indecent, lewd and filthy acts and one of indecent exposure.

Haynik's arrest followed a search reaching back into 1962 for a man who called young women about possible jobs as receptionists or secretaries in hospitals of clinics. They complained that during his interviews he took improprieties and sometimes gave them physical examinations.

Power And Apportionment

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The State Legislature has moved decisively in two important areas of concern for Nebraska—public power reorganization and state apportionment. In the case of the latter, senators passed an historic measure aimed at integration of the two major wholesale power districts in the state.

Advantage Of Size

That bill would unite under a single elected board of nine members the presently independent Nebraska Public Power System and the Consumers Public Power District. With the existing setup, Nebraska is running against the mainstream of activity in the field of power. Electric generation and distribution constitute a utility that is monopolistic by nature and by actual practice practically everywhere but in Nebraska. This is the trend because it is through size that electric power rates are most effectively reduced.

Throughout the nation, the trend is toward consolidation and cooperation among power organizations. In this way, large generation facilities can be produced and electric power loads evenly distributed for maximum efficiency and service. Any area or group that neglects to go in this direction will very soon find itself noncompetitive on rates.

It is expected that the new law will receive an early court test, to determine the validity of protection afforded bond holders of the two merged organizations. While no problem should develop along this line, the legal road that could be traveled is a long one.

Unfortunately, the law can be used as a delaying device and such threats have been made in regard to this new power law. But power officials who use this means in an effort to continue themselves in business will be encouraging the displeasure of the people of Nebraska. Such officials will be working against the best interests of the people while seeking to protect their own interests. The past history of public power in Nebraska has already been tainted with this sort of thing and officials who have a real concern for this state and its future will not now engage in legal delays that can serve no useful purpose. Along that line, the Legislature itself is considering a resolution condemning unnecessary court proceedings against the integration now ordered.

No state can afford the luxury of expensive and time-consuming argument for the sake of maintaining the status quo and the interests of a few people. Nebraska is no exception to this as it continues to face a narrowing economic base in agriculture and a population gain that lags behind the national average. The answer Nebraska seeks is industry but this is increasingly difficult to come by. Industry itself is becoming more complex and mobile, a fact which tends to draw it to existing centers of advanced research and engineering. One advantage this state can have is the offering of good utility service in the form of an ample water supply and low electric rates. Power officials who stand in the way of this are serving themselves, not the state of Nebraska.

In moving forward in apportionment, senators did not adopt any final plan of dividing the state into legislative districts but they did give solid approval to a new bill in one of the preliminary steps. Voting this week indicates that senators might well settle on a 49-member Legislature with districts crossing county lines.

Also advanced was a bill amending the state constitution to permit the crossing of county lines and increasing the possible size of the Legislature. Thus, senators continue to attack the problems of the state with a remarkable degree of dedication and integrity.

Up To The Courts

The apportionment plan would violate the state constitution but this is a step senators can hardly avoid. Nearly anything the senators do would violate either our state or federal Constitution and the crossing of county lines constitutes the least meaningful violation of all. Should this current plan of legislative districts be finally adopted, the ultimate outcome of the situation would still rest with the courts, both federal and state. Federal approval of the plan seems likely but state court approval is another question.

The state court will have to wrestle with the same dilemma faced by senators—the conflict between federal direction and the Nebraska constitution. The issue is far from settled but senators to date have written a record for which they need to make no apologies.

Time To Wake Up

Nebraska is feeling no drought pains this year.

The landscape is a picture of lush green. The corn is standing as high as an elephant's eye. And the surplus water, from continuing rainfall, is running off, eroding fields and wasting a great resource. But everything is flourishing.

But there is another side of the story. In the state of New York there is a serious drought. The New York City reservoirs are perilously close to the end of their reserves and millions of people are approaching a serious crisis. This is not funny. We live by rainfall.

We think we have more than plenty. Well, here is something to remember.

In our present way of living it requires 15,000 gallons a day to take care of the bodily needs and to provide the external things that give us the good life. It took 700 gallons to make one ton of paper, 65,000 gallons to make a ton of steel, 70 gallons for every gallon of gasoline we use. Everything we use requires water in some stage of its production. As we grow more numerous our supply of fresh water remains relatively unchanged. In colonial days when life was simple the entire country required less water that one good sized city today. We had an abundant reserve in those days. Today there are 200 million of us and our way of living demands magnificent amounts of water.

It is time we came awake. We need conservation the worst way. We need to get much more effective use of every gallon of water that falls as rain. We can no longer squander this precious resource.

What The Teen Agers Like

The Lincoln City Council has just finished its debate over a long list of rules to govern the teen age clubs, which are to be licensed. The council did not dispose of all the rules, but it ended up relaxing a good many of them.

Coincidently, the New York Times has written about an extraordinarily successful teen age installation at Shewsbury, New York. It has but two rules, no alcohol, no fighting. The presence of either one is sufficient to dismiss a teen ager from the club. The only adult around is the proprietor. The parents stay away. They are considered a bad influence, which they often are. There have been no disagreeable incidents at the club and none are anticipated. Membership is growing rapidly. Presently there are 400 members. Soon there will be 1,000. Membership costs $10 a year.

The club house cost $48,000. It is a spacious rebuilt barn. There is a large lawn, many trees and a large patio. Inside the club house there are eating booths, a dance hall and a little theater. There is also an indoor recreation area for ping pong and similar games. There is a basketball court outside. There is a kitchen designed to produce what teen agers like to eat and drink.

What do the kids think of it? They like it immensely. It is a place where they can collect and do the things that high school people like to do. They like the simple rules. One member sized it up by saying, "No one is always telling you what you can do and what you can't do. They're not always badgering us.

"Of course we recognize authority and like that so we behave like adults, except in things like drinking and delinquency."

Petition Signing Not Routine

It is hoped that many people have and take the opportunity of reading the income tax analysis prepared and published by Everett E. Peterson, University of Nebraska professor of agricultural economics. The analysis deals not only with the tax but with the petition movement now under way in an effort to place the tax issue on the ballot.

Peterson points out in his article that one must be a qualified elector to sign the petition. Also, there are regulations governing the signing and circulating of petitions. One important element of this is that the signing and circulation of petitions is not a routine matter. Such action is not to be taken lightly, as has often been the case in the past.

It is customary for the average person to sign just about any petition presented to him. This kind of attitude should not prevail. Often, the circulator will trap a reluctant signer by asking him if he doesn't believe in the public's right to vote. If the prospective signer believes in the right to vote, he is advised, then he ought to sign the petition that will let people vote.

This is not the reasoning or purpose behind petition movements. Such movements are intended as a means by which the people, for cause, can initiate an action or can attempt to knock down an action that has been taken through legislative processes. Careful note should be made to the fact that such actions are supposed to be supported in cause.

In other words, you shouldn't sign a petition just so people can vote. You should sign if you are in sympathy with the ends sought by those circulating the petition, which in this case is the repeal of the income tax. If the right to vote alone constituted cause for circulation and signing of petitions, we could do away with the legislative branch of government because everything would be settled by public vote. Obviously, the net result of that would be complete stagnation of all public action.

Potent Facts Point To War Escalation

WASHINGTON — There are two ominous documents in President Johnson's Viet Nam file which could suddenly change that isolated conflict into a major war.

No. 1 is a plan for knocking out the SAM missile sites that the Russians have installed around Hanoi and Haiphong, which could well lead to a dangerous confrontation between the United States and the Soviet Union.

No. 2 is an intelligence warning that the Red Chinese rulers are preparing their people for the possibility of war with the United States. This preparation has gone beyond the mere propaganda stage and it looks as if a grim decision has been made to resist any further U.S. escalation of the Viet Nam war.

The Russians are building five SAM sites around Hanoi, three around Haiphong. These will have the range to shoot down planes 60,000 feet above the earth and 35 miles away.

The first emplacement was completed a few days ago and already has blasted one of our jet bombers. This brought new pressure on the President to put the SAM sites out of action before they could further harass our planes over North Viet Nam.

He put off a decision as long as the sites were inactive, having been assured that the Air Force could knock them out any time. It is no secret that the sites are vulnerable to low-level bombing attacks, and the decision was made earlier this week to knock them out.

☆ ☆ ☆

When Khrushchev was in power, the United States and Russia faced a somewhat similar problem in regard to Cuba. At that time, May 1964, Russia had pulled its troops out of Cuba, including the Russians manning the SAM weapons. All during the period from the Cuban missile crisis in October 1962 to May 1964, the Russians had been careful not to shoot at U-2 observation planes flying over Cuba.

When I talked with Khrushchev in Cairo in May '64, he asked that I take a message to President Johnson urging him to use spy satellites, not planes, to take pictures of Cuban bases; because, he said, he couldn't guarantee that Castro's men wouldn't take pot shots at U.S. planes.

Khrushchev pointed out that the United States had been taking pictures of Russian missile bases for some time and "we have been taking pictures of your bases. I would be glad to sit down with President Johson and exchange photos to see which are the best.

"But tell him," concluded Khrushchev, "not to fly over Cuba, because we don't want your planes shot down. You would then retaliate against Cuba, and as an ally of Cuba we would have to come to Cuba's defense."

No Evasions In President's Stand

WASHINGTON — All the earlier evasions, false hopes and vain optimism of the Viet Nam war melted away in President Johnson's defense of the new steps he is taking to bring the communist Viet Cong to the conference table.

The President justified sending more men and more weapons to South Viet Nam on the ground that the American national interest is involved. They will be used, he said grimly. Any retreat from his policy he equated with the appeasement of Hitler at Munich.

His attitude sharpens the Viet Nam debate immensely. It is a direct challenge to the fence-sitters who are saying that the United States should not leave Viet Nam but should not continue to escalate the war, particularly as the steps taken have not produced even partial victory.

If the national interest is involved, then, of course any steps to protect it must be taken. Realistic debate must center on the President's contention that it is so involved. Such terms are hard to meet when so many Americans are already there and their casualties are mounting.

☆ ☆ ☆

The President was the picture of confidence. His political judgment apparently has told him that no such argument will be made with any force he needs to consider. If he ever has had any doubt about the military judgments he has adopted, it has never escaped him.

He made a special effort to be persuasive, and he wove through all his discourse his love of peace, his offers to negotiate. Answering questions, he ducked only one issue.

Familiar and inevitable in war situations, it was whether the country could have both guns and butter. Smoothly, he called attention to the long rise of prosperity and saw no reason why it should not continue.

Actually, it seems that in the short run at least there will be new war-created prosperity. The Pentagon must start buying all sorts of things which are being used up in the odd and difficult Viet Nam terrain, which does not admit of the vast nuclear deterrent stockpiles.

Nuclear weapons are costly, and it has seemed easy to economize on lesser items for long, drawn-out land conflict or modest air strikes. Production of one airplane being used in Viet Nam was cut off a long time ago.

It will take ~~time—months,~~ even years — to get such things again in quantity. Already procurement officials are asking for the expansion of some modest programs and are being reminded that it will take time and money to fill their requests.

Congress unquestionably will furnish the money. It can't do anything about the time, nor can it ask many questions about whether the supplies needed are really the most for the money.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Chiggers 'n Jelly 'n Hailstorms

By MONA B. PARKER

The destruction that hail can bring to crops is distressing at any time during the growing season. But complete devastation to growing things with a harvest almost in sight is heartbreaking . . .

Several areas of the state felt the sting of such hailstorms within the past week. Pictures showed fields with grain literally pounded into the ground and only stumps of stalks where lush green fields of corn had stood moments before . . .

The Stromsburg Headlight told of six-foot corn near there that would have produced 125 bushels to the acre. When the storm had passed, there was nothing but six to 12-inch stubs left. Milo was pounded down almost to ground level.

One farm family who had good sized cabbage heads in their garden said the patch resembled cole slaw afterwards.

☆ ☆ ☆

Everyone was yelling for moisture, Ed Krikac wrote in the Comstock News, "and we got it, but when it came, it was accompanied by hail and a lot of farmers had their crop prospects ruined almost at the blinking of an eye."

☆ ☆ ☆

July is easily "the most thundery" month, too, according to Harold Spence, editor of the Holdrege Citizen. He was reading up on what some of the experts had to say. Seems a thundercloud is rather like a wind-driven dynamo but science is still baffled as to how clouds and rain become electrified.

And the generating capacity of a thundercloud is rather awe-inspiring. Seems a single flash of lightning has been estimated to develop a million times the voltage used in ordinary house wiring.

Mr. Spence has comfortable words for the nervous Nellies, who shudder at the flashing skies . . .

Instinct is a fairly basic but not always practical element in human behavior. Stan Samuelsen of the Mirror-Sun told of the woman who, during a heavy hailstorm there in Lyons, decided to make a dash for it to see if she could do something about saving her car from damage. With umbrella held firmly over her head, she made it to the vehicle. However, looking back at the situation and the fact that the baseball-size pieces of ice were at the same time piercing aluminum sheets nearby, "she began to wonder just how much protection her umbrella had really given her."

"If you hear it thunder, the lightning didn't strike you. If you saw the lightning, it missed you. If it did strike you, it's pretty certain it's too late to worry."

Mrs. Roy Ahrndt of Scribner took on several hot jobs on several of the hottest days that summer had to offer . . .

One day she and her girls baked cookies and made jelly all day long, and another day they cold-packed and pressure-cooked green beans. And while they sweat it out during their work, "those gallons of cookies in the deep-freeze and the shelf plumful of jelly (plum jelly?) and those 19 quarters of canned beans look all right."

☆ ☆ ☆

Lilas Thomas, columnist for the Ogallala News, had some good advice for chigger-bite sufferers. She hadn't tried it herself, but passed it on to readers for experimenting, for what it was worth.

A chemistry professor had said that hair spray would stop the itching from chigger and mosquito bites. Another friend had heard that nail polish would do the job as far as chiggers were concerned.

Economy Factors

Prague, Neb.

In the July 24 issue of The Lincoln Star, Dr. Coleman, professor of economics, stated: "Our present economy is good, but we still have more unemployment than we need."

I fail to see where our economy can be good when we have about four million unemployed. How are these people supposed to feed and clothe their families? Do we ever need any unemployed?

We also have 3½ million farmers in distress. Much of this so-called good economy is being fueled by the debts of the American farmers.

If the farmers would get 100% of parity, there would not be any unemployment.

In the trade area of Lemmon, S.D., a city of 2,500, there were 93 farm sales in 1963 and 1964. As a result, 11 business places closed—five hardware stores, three groceries, two implement dealers and a furniture store. These facts were inserted in the Congressional Record of May 12, 1965, by Senator McGovern of South Dakota. This is certainly not a healthy economy.

What, then, is this man teaching at the University of Nebraska?

OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The State Legislature has moved decisively in two important areas of concern for Nebraska—public power reorganization and state apportionment. In the case of the latter, senators passed an historic measure aimed at integration of the two major wholesale power districts in the state.

That bill would unite under a single elected board of nine members the presently independent Nebraska Public Power System and the Consumers Public Power District. With the existing setup, Nebraska is running against the mainstream of activity in the field of power. Electric generation and distribution constitute a utility that is monopolistic by nature and by actual practice practically everywhere but in Nebraska. This is the trend because it is through size that electric power rates are most effectively reduced

Throughout the nation, the trend is toward consolidation and cooperation among power organizations. In this way, large generation facilities can be produced and electric power loads evenly distributed for maximum efficiency and service. Any area or group that neglects to go in this direction will very soon find itself noncompetitive on rates.

It is expected that the new law will receive an early court test, to determine the validity of protection afforded bond holders of the two merged organizations. While no problem should develop along this line, the legal road that could be traveled is a long one.

Unfortunately, the law can be used as a delaying device and such threats have been made in regard to this new power law. But power officials who use this means in an effort to continue themselves in business will be encouraging the displeasure of the people of Nebraska. Such officials will be working against the best interests of the people while seeking to protect their own interests. The past history of public power in Nebraska has already been tainted with this sort of thing and officials who have a real concern for this state and its future will not now engage in legal delays that can serve no useful purpose. Along that line, the Legislature itself is considering a resolution condemning unnecessary court proceedings against the integration now ordered.

No state can afford the luxury of expensive and time-consuming argument for the sake of maintaining the status quo and the interests of a few people. Nebraska is no exception to this as it continues to face a narrowing economic base in agriculture and a population gain that lags behind the national average. The answer Nebraska seeks is industry but this is increasingly difficult to come by. Industry itself is becoming more complex and mobile, a fact which tends to draw it to existing centers of advanced research and engineering. One advantage this state can have is the offering of good utility service in the form of an ample water supply and low electric rates. Power officials who stand in the way of this are serving themselves, not the state of Nebraska.

In moving forward in apportionment, senators did not adopt any final plan of dividing the state into legislative districts but they did give solid approval to a new bill in one of the preliminary steps. Voting this week indicates that senators might well settle on a 49-member Legislature with districts crossing county lines.

Also advanced was a bill amending the state constitution to permit the crossing of county lines and increasing the possible size of the Legislature. Thus, senators continue to attack the problems of the state with a remarkable degree of dedication and integrity.

The apportionment plan would violate the state constitution but this is a step senators can hardly avoid. Nearly anything the senators do would violate either our state or federal Constitution and the crossing of county lines constitutes the least meaningful violation of all. Should this current plan of legislative districts be finally adopted, the ultimate outcome of the situation would still rest with the courts, both federal and state. Federal approval of the plan seems likely but state court approval is another question.

Up To The Courts

The state court will have to wrestle with the same dilemma faced by senators—the conflict between federal direction and the Nebraska constitution. The issue is far from settled but senators to date have written a record for which they need to make no apologies.

Time To Wake Up

Nebraska is feeling no drought pains this year.

The landscape is a picture of lush green. The corn is standing as high as an elephant's eye. And the surplus water, from continuing rainfall, is running off, eroding fields and wasting a great resource. But everything is flourishing.

But there is another side of the story. In the state of New York there is a serious drought. The New York City reservoirs are perilously close to the end of their reserves and millions of people are approaching a serious crisis. This is not funny. We live by rainfall.

We think we have more than plenty. Well, here is something to remember:

In our present way of living it requires 15,000 gallons a day to take care of the bodily needs and to provide the external things that give us the good life. It took 700 gallons to make one ton of paper, 65,000 gallons to make a ton of steel, 70 gallons for every gallon of gasoline we use. Everything we use requires water in some stage of its production. As we grow more numerous our supply of fresh water remains relatively unchanged. In colonial days when life was simple the entire country required less water that one good sized city today. We had an abundant reserve in those days. Today there are 200 million of us and our way of living demands magnificent amounts of water.

It is time we came awake. We need conservation the worst way. We need to get much more effective use of every gallon of water that falls as rain. We can no longer squander this precious resource.

What The Teen Agers Like

The Lincoln City Council has just finished its debate over a long list of rules to govern the teen age clubs, which are to be licensed. The council did not dispose of all the rules, but it ended up relaxing a good many of them.

Coincidently, the New York Times has written about an extraordinarily successful teen age installation at Shewsbury, New York. It has but two rules, no alcohol, no fighting. The presence of either one is sufficient to dismiss a teen ager from the club. The only adult around is the proprietor. The parents stay away. They are considered a bad influence, which they often are. There have been no disagreeable incidents at the club and none are anticipated. Membership is growing rapidly. Presently there are 400 members. Soon there will be 1,000. Membership costs $10 a year.

The club house cost $48,000. It is a spacious rebuilt barn. There is a large lawn, many trees and a large patio. Inside the club house there are eating booths, a dance hall and a little theater. There is also an indoor recreation area for ping pong and similar games. There is a basketball court outside. There is a kitchen designed to produce what teen agers like to eat and drink.

What do the kids think of it? They like it immensely. It is a place where they can collect and do the things that high school people like to do. They like the simple rules. One member sized it up by saying. "No one is always telling you what you can do and what you can't do. They're not always badgering us.

"Of course we recognize authority and like that so we behave like adults, except in things like drinking and delinquency."

Petition Signing Not Routine

It is hoped that many people have and take the opportunity of reading the income tax analysis prepared and published by Everett E. Peterson, University of Nebraska professor of agricultural economics. The analysis deals not only with the tax but with the petition movement now under way in an effort to place the tax issue on the ballot.

Peterson points out in his article that one must be a qualified elector to sign the petition. Also, there are regulations governing the signing and circulating of petitions. One important element of this is that the signing and circulation of petitions is not a routine matter. Such action is not to be taken lightly, as has often been the case in the past.

It is customary for the average person to sign just about any petition presented to him. This kind of attitude should not prevail. Often, the circulator will trap a reluctant signer by asking him if he doesn't believe in the public's right to vote. If the prospective signer believes in the right to vote, he is advised, then he ought to sign the petition that will let people vote.

This is not the reasoning or purpose behind petition movements. Such movements are intended as a means by which the people, for cause, can initiate an action or can attempt to knock down an action that has been taken through legislative processes. Careful note should be made to the fact that such actions are supposed to be supported in cause.

In other words, you shouldn't sign a petition just so people can vote. You should sign if you are in sympathy with the ends sought by those circulating the petition, which in this case is the repeal of the income tax. If the right to vote alone constituted cause for circulation and signing of petitions, we could do away with the legislative branch of government because everything would be settled by public vote. Obviously, the net result of that would be complete stagnation of all public action.

Potent Facts Point To War Escalation

WASHINGTON — There are two ominous documents in President Johnson's Viet Nam file which could suddenly change that isolated conflict into a major war.

No. 1 is a plan for knocking out the SAM missile sites that the Russians have installed around Hanoi and Haiphong, which could well lead to a dangerous confrontation between the United States and the Soviet Union.

No. 2 is an intelligence warning that the Red Chinese rulers are preparing their people for the possibility of war with the United States. This preparation has gone beyond the mere propaganda stage and it looks as if a grim decision has been made to resist any further U.S. escalation of the Viet Nam war.

The Russians are building five SAM sites around Hanoi, three around Haiphong. These will have the range to shoot down planes 60,000 feet above the earth and 35 miles away.

The first emplacement was completed a few days ago and already has blasted one of our jet bombers. This brought new pressure on the President to put the SAM sites out of action before they could further harass our planes over North Viet Nam.

He put off a decision as long as the sites were inactive, having been assured that the Air Force could knock them out any time. It is no secret that the sites are vulnerable to low-level bombing attacks, and the decision was made earlier this week to knock them out.

When Khrushchev was in power, the United States and Russia faced a somewhat similar problem in regard to Cuba. At that time, May 1964, Russia had pulled its troops out of Cuba, including the Russians manning the SAM weapons. All during the period from the Cuban missile crisis in October 1962 to May 1964, the Russians had been careful not to shoot at U-2 observation planes flying over Cuba.

When I talked with Khrushchev in Cairo in May '64, he asked that I take a message to President Johnson urging him to use spy satellites, not planes, to take pictures of Cuban bases; because, he said, he couldn't guarantee that Castro's men wouldn't take pot shots at U.S. planes.

Khrushchev pointed out that the United States had been taking pictures of Russian missile bases for some time and "we have been taking pictures of your bases. I would be glad to sit down with President Johson and exchange photos to see which are the best.

"But tell him," concluded Khrushchev, "not to fly over Cuba, because we don't want your planes shot down. You would then retaliate against Cuba, and as an ally of Cuba we would have to come to Cuba's defense."

No Evasions In President's Stand

WASHINGTON — All the earlier evasions, false hopes and vain optimism of the Viet Nam war melted away in President Johnson's defense of the new steps he is taking to bring the communist Viet Cong to the conference table.

The President justified sending more men and more weapons to South Viet Nam on the ground that the American national interest is involved. They will be used, he said grimly. Any retreat from his policy he equated with the appeasement of Hitler at Munich.

His attitude sharpens the Viet Nam debate immensely. It is a direct challenge to the fence-sitters who are saying that the United States should not leave Viet Nam but should not continue to escalate the war, particularly as the steps taken have not produced even partial victory.

If the national interest is involved, then, of course any steps to protect it must be taken. Realistic debate must center on the President's contention that it is so involved. Such terms are hard to meet when so many Americans are already there and their casualties are mounting.

☆ ☆ ☆

The President was the picture of confidence. His political judgment apparently has told him that no such argument will be made with any force he needs to consider. If he ever has had any doubt about the military judgments he has adopted, it has never escaped him.

He made a special effort to be persuasive, and he wove through all his discourse his love of peace, his offers to negotiate. Answering questions, he ducked only one issue.

Familiar and inevitable in war situations, it was whether the country could have both guns and butter. Smoothly, he called attention to the long rise of prosperity and saw no reason why it should not continue.

Actually, it seems that in the short run at least there will be new war-created prosperity. The Pentagon must start buying all sorts of things which are being used up in the odd and difficult Viet Nam terrain, which does not admit of the vast nuclear deterrent stockpiles.

Nuclear weapons are costly, and it has seemed easy to economize on lesser items for long, drawn-out land conflict or modest air strikes. Production of one airplane being used in Viet Nam was cut off a long time ago.

It will take time—months, even years — to get such things again in quantity. Already procurement officials are asking for the expansion of some modest programs and are being reminded that it will take time and money to fill their requests.

Congress unquestionably will furnish the money. It can't do anything about the time, nor can it ask many questions about whether the supplies needed are really the most for the money.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Chiggers 'n Jelly 'n Hailstorms

By MONA B. PARKER

The destruction that hail can bring to crops is distressing at any time during the growing season. But complete devastation to growing things with a harvest almost in sight is heartbreaking . . .

Several areas of the state felt the sting of such hailstorms within the past week. Pictures showed fields with grain literally pounded into the ground and only stumps of stalks where lush green fields of corn had stood moments before . . .

The Stromsburg Headlight told of six-foot corn near there that would have produced 125 bushels to the acre. When the storm had passed, there was nothing but six to 12-inch stubs left. Milo was pounded down almost to ground level.

One farm family who had good sized cabbage heads in their garden said the patch resembled cole slaw afterwards.

☆ ☆ ☆

Everyone was yelling for moisture, Ed Krikac wrote in the Comstock News, "and we got it, but when it came, it was accompanied by hail and a lot of farmers had their crop prospects ruined almost at the blinking of an eye."

☆ ☆ ☆

July is easily "the most thundery" month, too, according to Harold Spence, editor of the Holdrege Citizen. He was reading up on what some of the experts had to say. Seems a thundercloud is rather like a wind-driven dynamo but science is still baffled as to how clouds and rain become electrified.

And the generating capacity of a thundercloud is rather awe-inspiring. Seems a single flash of lightning has been estimated to develop a million times the voltage used in ordinary house wiring.

Mr. Spence has comfortable words for the nervous Nellies, who shudder at the flashing skies . . .

Instinct is a fairly basic but not always practical element in human behavior. Stan Samuelson of the Mirror-Sun told of the woman who, during a heavy hailstorm there in Lyons, decided to make a dash for it to see if she could do something about saving her car from damage. With umbrella held firmly over her head, she made it to the vehicle. However, looking back at the situation and the fact that the baseball-size pieces of ice were at the same time piercing aluminum sheets nearby, "she began to wonder just how much protection her umbrella had really given her."

"If you hear it thunder, the lightning didn't strike you. If you saw the lightning, it missed you. If it did strike you, it's pretty certain it's too late to worry."

Mrs. Roy Ahrndt of Scribner took on several hot jobs on several of the hottest days that summer had to offer . . .

One day she and her girls baked cookies and made jelly all day long, and another day they cold-packed and pressure-cooked green beans. And while they sweat it out during their work, "those gallons of cookies in the deep-freeze and the shelf plumful of jelly (plum jelly?) and those 19 quarters of canned beans look all right."

☆ ☆ ☆

Lilas Thomas, columnist for the Ogallala News, had some good advice for chigger-bite sufferers. She hadn't tried it herself, but passed it on to readers for experimenting, for what it was worth.

A chemistry professor had said that hair spray would stop the itching from chigger and mosquito bites. Another friend had heard that nail polish would do the job as far as chiggers were concerned.

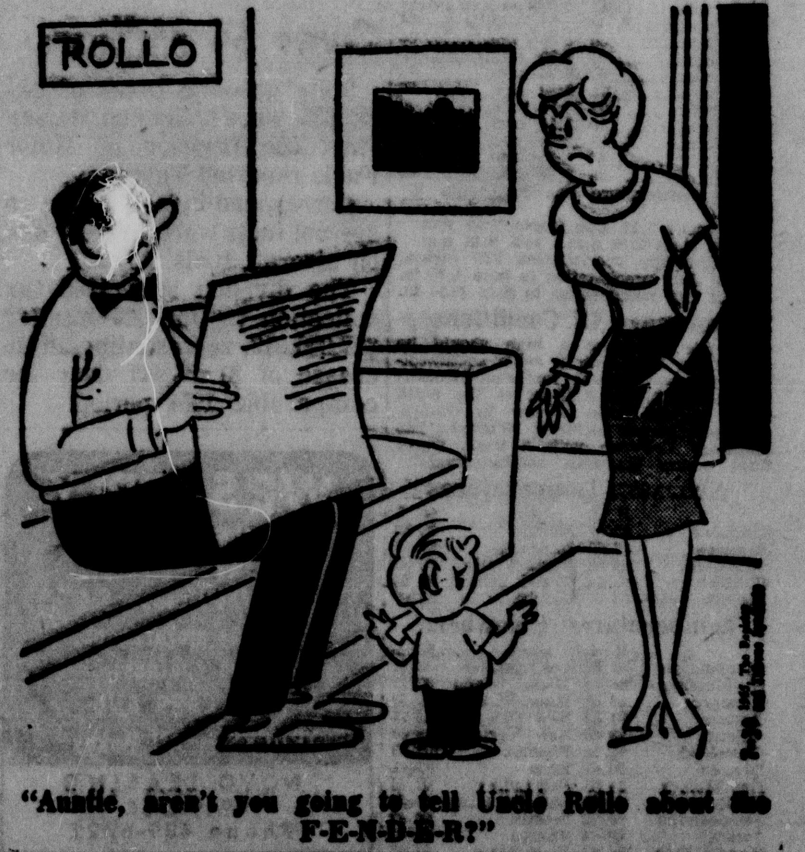
OFF THE RECORD By Ed. Reed



"Auntie, aren't you going to tell Uncle Rollo about the F-E-N-D-E-R?"

House GOP Pair Criticize LBJ Choice Fortas With Esquire Magazine Story

Washington (UPI)—A heated exchange erupted in the House Thursday over President Johnson's naming of Washington attorney Abe Fortas to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Rep. Durward C. Hall, R-Mo., took the floor to charge that the nominee has been "a quiet participant in some of the more dubious transactions involving the Johnson administration."

Hall cited in detail statements about Fortas in a June, 1965 Esquire magazine story and what he called "ominous implications" in Fortas' involvement in an oil case which resulted in an oil company windfall of $11 million to $30 million a year. The case involved a favorable Interior Department ruling on Puerto Rican oil exports to the U.S. mainland.

Fortas Defense

Rep. George W. Grider, D-Tenn., managed to come to Fortas' defense but only after Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, had gotten the floor to associate himself with Hall's remarks. Gross called the appointment "inconceivable."

Grider read a telegram from the American Trial Lawyers Association commending Johnson for the Fortas appointment. He said the association members are in a better position to know the nominee's qualifications than Hall or Gross.

Rising to support Grider, Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla., said attacks on the basis of such an article "are not in the best tradition of the House of Representatives."

Hall and Gross then angrily rose to say they are not hiding behind any immunity available to a speaker in the House and would gladly voice their sentiments anywhere.

Tribute To Fortas

Grider ended the altercation with a tribute to his fellow native of Memphis. He said the Supreme Court often has to take positions "not in accord with the popular will," and that Fortas has the kind of courage needed to make such decisions.

So far as the oil matter is concerned, he said, Fortas' participation was a part of his effort over two decades to help Puerto Rico.

Hall was one of the first two members of Congress to speak out in open criticism of the court nomination.

Prisoner Rehabilitation Bill OK Is Asked By Katzenbach

Washington (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach urged Congress Thursday to pass a federal prisoner rehabilitation bill that would permit older convicts to take outside jobs, establish bank accounts, and adjust to everyday living before their release.

"This measure is designed to help facilitate rehabilitation," the attorney general said. "It is designed to help make first offenders last offenders."

He appeared before a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on behalf of a bill sponsored by the Justice Department to amend the law under which federal prisons are operated. It asks that the Federal Bureau of Prisons be given authority to exercise the same flexibility in setting up correctional programs for qualified adult offenders that already operates for juveniles and youths.

Halfway Houses

The bill—which is just starting its congressional journey—would have the effect of providing "halfway houses"—halfway between prison and freedom—for older prisoners.

Myrl D. Alexander, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, told the subcommittee that probably no more than 1,000 or 1,500 of the 22,000 federal prison inmates ever will be eligible for the "work release" program.

Katzenbach said: "I don't think we can expect as much success with the older prisoners as we have had with the younger ones, but we feel this program is worth a try."

He said similar programs were under way in western Europe, including Scandinavia.

Work Release

The attorney general said the "work release" system would permit qualified and trusted prisoners to travel alone to job interviews or to meet their families with the promise that they would return to prison jurisdiction.

He cited figures based on a University of Illinois — Ford Foundation survey showing that 90% of the prisoners released from federal institutions try to find legitimate employment in the first few weeks after their release. Those who do are more likely to lead honest lives than those who do not, he said.

Katzenbach said he felt the present bill satisfied earlier objections by organized labor that the returning prisoner might displace workers already available for a job.

The subcommittee also heard testimony from George W. Randall, director of prisons in North Carolina, who described the success his state has had with its work release law enacted in 1957.

Randall said: "First in public appeal is the program's relief to the taxayer. In the North Carolina prison system today, more than 1,000 work release inmates support themselves. Without work release privileges, these offenders would be a tax burden on the state."

Hormones Induce Swedish Quints, But Two Boys Die

Falun, Sweden (AP)—A Swedish woman gave birth Thursday to three boys and two girls after receiving fertility-stimulating hormone treatment like that given a New Zealand woman who had quintuplets Tuesday. The treatment carries with it the threat of multiple births.

Two of the Swedish woman's quints died. In Auckland, Mrs. Samuel Lawson's boy and four girls were doing fine in incubators at a hospital after passing through the first critical 48 hours. Both sets were premature.

Born to the woman in this Swedish town were two girls and three boys. Two of the boys died. The others were in oxygen tents. They weighed between 2 and 2 2/3 pounds. The Auckland quints weighed about four pounds each.

The Swedish woman, whose name was withheld, had children but became infertile. Mrs. Lawson too had become infertile after having one child.

"Mrs. Lawson, along with other patients, requested treatment with the hormone because of her strong desire to have further children," said Dr. D. G. Bonham, professor of the postgraduate school of obstectrics and gynecology at Auckland University.

"The dosage was selected on the basis of overseas studies and was meticulously controlled by daily chemical hormone estimations. Experience has shown that even with such careful control, the possibility of multiple pregnancy remains."

In New Zealand, the drug is called Gonadotrophin. Dr. Carlaxel Gemzell, a Swedish gynecologist who is director of the Academic Hospital of Uppsala, worked out the treatment. He simply calls it a hormone drug. He pioneered the treatment in 1956.

Vacationing near Uppsala, Gemzell said he had given the hormone to the Swedish woman.

Gemzell said he did not treat Mrs. Lawson but the drug was sent from Uppsala to New Zealand.

House GOP Pair Criticize LBJ Choice Fortas With Esquire Magazine Story

Washington (UPI)—A heated exchange erupted in the House Thursday over President Johnson's naming of Washington attorney Abe Fortas to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Rep. Durward C. Hall, R-Mo., took the floor to charge that the nominee has been "a quiet participant in some of the more dubious transactions involving the Johnson administration."

Hall cited in detail statements about Fortas in a June, 1965 Esquire magazine story and what he called "ominous implications" in Fortas' involvement in an oil case which resulted in an oil company windfall of $11 million to $30 million a year. The case involved a favorable Interior Department ruling on Puerto Rican oil exports to the U.S. mainland.

Fortas Defense

Rep. George W. Grider, D-Tenn., managed to come to Fortas' defense but only after Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, had gotten the floor to associate himself with Hall's remarks. Gross called the appointment "inconceivable."

Grider read a telegram from the American Trial Lawyers Association commending Johnson for the Fortas appointment. He said the association members are in a better position to know the nominee's qualifications than Hall or Gross.

Rising to support Grider, Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla., said attacks on the basis of such an article "are not in the best tradition of the House of Representatives."

Hall and Gross then angrily rose to say they are not hiding behind any immunity available to a speaker in the House and would gladly voice their sentiments anywhere.

Tribute To Fortas

Grider ended the altercation with a tribute to his fellow native of Memphis. He said the Supreme Court often has to take positions "not in accord with the popular will," and that Fortas has the kind of courage needed to make such decisions.

So far as the oil matter is concerned, he said, Fortas' participation was a part of his effort over two decades to help Puerto Rico.

Hall was one of the first two members of Congress to speak out in open criticism of the court nomination.

Prisoner Rehabilitation Bill OK Is Asked By Katzenbach

Washington (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach urged Congress Thursday to pass a federal prisoner rehabilitation bill that would permit older convicts to take outside jobs, establish bank accounts, and adjust to everyday living before their release.

"This measure is designed to help facilitate rehabilitation," the attorney general said. "It is designed to help make first offenders last offenders."

He appeared before a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on behalf of a bill sponsored by the Justice Department to amend the law under which federal prisons are operated. It asks that the Federal Bureau of Prisons be given authority to exercise the same flexibility in setting up correctional programs for qualified adult offenders that already operates for juveniles and youths.

Halfway Houses

The bill—which is just starting its congressional journey—would have the effect of providing "halfway houses"—halfway between prison and freedom—for older prisoners.

Myrl D. Alexander, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, told the subcommittee that probably no more than 1,000 or 1,500 of the 22,000 federal prison inmates ever will be eligible for the "work release" program.

Katzenbach said: "I don't think we can expect as much success with the older prisoners as we have had with the younger ones, but we feel this program is worth a try."

He said similar programs were under way in western Europe, including Scandinavia.

Work Release

The attorney general said the "work release" system would permit qualified and trusted prisoners to travel alone to job interviews or to meet their families with the promise that they would return to prison jurisdiction.

He cited figures based on a University of Illinois — Ford Foundation survey showing that 90% of the prisoners released from federal institutions try to find legitimate employment in the first few weeks after their release. Those who do are more likely to lead honest lives than those who do not, he said.

Katzenbach said he felt the present bill satisfied earlier objections by organized labor that the returning prisoner might displace workers already available for a job.

The subcommittee also heard testimony from George W. Randall, director of prisons in North Carolina, who described the success his state has had with its work release law enacted in 1957.

Randall said: "First in public appeal is the program's relief to the taxayer. In the North Carolina prison system today, more than 1,000 work release inmates support themselves. Without work release privileges, these offenders would be a tax burden on the state."

Smear Literature Curb Moves, 36-4

A bill designed to curb the circulation of so-called smear literature in political campaigns received 36-4 first round approval in the Legislature Thursday

Introduced at the request of Gov. Frank Morrison. LB915 requires indentification of the originator of campaign literature.

Floor objections were voiced to the late arrival of the measure, introduced June 23 with Sens J W Burbach of Crofton, Jerome Warner of Waverly and Fern Orme of Lincoln delivering the bill for the governor

Thick Skin Needed

There were floor suggestions also that the originator of smear literature can usually be determined without trouble, and anyway — as Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill put it — "You've got to have a thick enough skin to take abuse "

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff strongly supported the measure.

"When you're out there on the prairie and you hear the thundering herd you can't see them then you'll wish you had voted for this bill," he said

"When a guy shoots at me, I want to be able to see who he is so I can shoot back "

Voung against advancement were Nelson and Sens. S H Brauer Sr. of Norfolk, H C Crandall of Curtis and Dale Payne of Papillion

Resolution Asks Care In Use Of Ag Pesticides

A resolution calling on Nebraskans to make careful use of agricultural chemicals and pesticides was introduced in the Legislature Thursday.

Action on the resolution, No. 88, was deferred Sponsors were Sens Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont and William Wylie of Elgin

"Wrongful use of agricultural chemicals may be of great physical and economical harm to man, animal and plant life," the resolution said.

Burney Says Unicam Little Over-Liberal

Former Gov. Dwight Burney said Thursday that the 1965 Legislature has "faced up to the problems of today," but he cautioned that it may be "a little over-liberal" in some areas

Burney identified one such area as appropriations for capital construction.

Any construction will tend to increase future appropriations by boosting costs of maintenance, furnishing and staffing, he noted.

Burney, a Republican, said that the 1965 session "may have broken the crust on the tax issue, but I think there is a strong possibility that the income tax law will be thrown out by the voters."

Burney said he "cannot understand why some people want to continually push the heavy tax load on property because it certainly holds back the investment in property."

Study Of Tax Levels On Land Near Cities Asked

A Legislative Council interim study of the assessment of agricultural land situated near urban areas was recommended in the Legislature Thursday.

The resolution, No. 89, chiefly sponsored by Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, was referred to the council's executive committee for recommendation.

Lawmakers already have passed a bill submitting to voters a constitutional amendment providing that the Legislature may pass laws that the value of land actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use shall be figured for tax purposes, at its agricultural value without regard to value it might have for other purposes.

The study was advocated because future legislatures will be confronted with following through on the amendment.

R. Kanoff Named To Norfolk Post

The newly-created post of assistant superintendent of business administration at the Norfolk State Hospital will be filled by Raymond J Kanoff, 45, a management analyst at the Hines Veterans Hospital in Illinois, it was announced Thursday.

Kanoff will report for work in August at Norfolk.

He will receive $12,000 a year, the same salary set for Carl Rinker of Chicago, recently named business administrator at Hastings state hospital.

Kanoff holds a master's degree in hospital administration from Northwestern University and has served as business administrator for several general hospitals

Newspaper Prices Up

Belgrade (AP)— Yugoslavia's daily papers will cost more starting Aug 1 They went from 20 dinars to 30 earlier this year and the new price will be 40 (about 4 cents U.S. under new devaluation exchange rates). They are subsidized by the Socialist Alliance, a Communist organization, to compensate for continuing deficit operations.

Legislature Rejects Intangible Penalty Refund Proposal

Nebraska's Legislature Thursday rejected a proposal under which intangible tax penalties assessed under an invalid law would have been returned to the taxpayer without any effort on his part.

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter attempted to write the amendment into LB930, a penalty refund bill introduced by the Revenue Committee.

The Carpenter amendment would have required county treasurers to seek out and mail refunds to the penalized taxpayers. It was rejected 14-18.

From Ruling

The bill and a companion measure, LB931, grew out of the State Supreme Court's recent action in ruling invalid a 1961 law assessing 500% penalties for failure to list intangible property for taxation.

Both LB930 and LB931 were advanced from general file after floor debate Thursday afternoon.

LB931 rewrites and consolidates scattered penalty laws while reducing the intangible tax penalty from 500% to 200%.

An amendment appended to LB930, the refund act, provides that the taxpayer penalized under the invalid law will have two years in which to file his claim for return of the penalty

Under an approved Carpenter amendment, the bill also was broadened to provide for refunds of taxes which have or may be collected under any law which the Supreme Court might hereafter declare to be unconstitutional.

Some Long Distance Call Rates Sliced

Rates on certain long distance telephone calls within Nebraska will be reduced again by an order of the Nebraska State Railway Commission The reductions will be made effective within 60 days.

The commission has approved an application by Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. for lower rates patterened after reductions on between-state calls which became effective Feb. 1.

Under the new rates, the lowest charges for a station call will apply every night from 8 p m. to 4:30 a m. and all day Sunday. The maximum charge for a three-minute station call within Nebraska during those periods will be 65 cents. In most cases, the charges will be less.

New "evening rates" will apply on station calls from 6 to 8 p m weekdays and all day Saturday until 8 p.m., when the even lower night rates go into effect.

An earlier reduction in rates on calls within Nebraska became effective last Jan. 3. That reduction had introduced the low night rates. The new reduction extends the time periods for night rates and introduces the new evening rates. Also included in the new rate schedule are some minor adjustments for other types of long distance calls.

The effect of the two rate reductions this year will save Nebraska telephone users an estimated $225,000 annually on in-state calls, according to J. E. Olson, Northwestern Bell vice president and general manager.

A Legislative Council interim study of the assessment of agricultural land situated near urban areas was recommended in the Legislature Thursday.

The resolution, No. 89, chiefly sponsored by Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, was referred to the council's executive committee for recommendation.

Lawmakers already have passed a bill submitting to voters a constitutional amendment providing that the Legislature may pass laws that the value of land actively devoted to agricultural or horticultural use shall be figured for tax purposes, at its agricultural value without regard to value it might have for other purposes.

The study was advocated because future legislatures will be confronted with following through on the amendment.

R. Kanoff Named To Norfolk Post

The newly-created post of assistant superintendent of business administration at the Norfolk State Hospital will be filled by Raymond J. Kanoff, 45, a management analyst at the Hines Veterans Hospital in Illinois, it was announced Thursday.

Kanoff will report for work in August at Norfolk.

He will receive $12,000 a year, the same salary set for Carl Rinker of Chicago, recently named business administrator at Hastings state hospital.

Kanoff holds a master's degree in hospital administration from Northwestern University and has served as business administrator for several general hospitals.

Newspaper Prices Up

Belgrade (AP)— Yugoslavia's daily papers will cost more starting Aug. 1. They went from 20 dinars to 30 earlier this year and the new price will be 40 (about 4 cents U.S. under new devaluation exchange rates). They are subsidized by the Socialist Alliance, a Communist organization, to compensate for continuing deficit operations.

Legislature Rejects Intangible Penalty Refund Proposal

Nebraska's Legislature Thursday rejected a proposal under which intangible tax penalties assessed under an invalid law would have been returned to the taxpayer without any effort on his part.

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter attempted to write the amendment into LB930, a penalty refund bill introduced by the Revenue Committee.

The Carpenter amendment would have required county treasurers to seek out and mail refunds to the penalized taxpayers. It was rejected 14-18.

From Ruling

The bill and a companion measure, LB931, grew out of the State Supreme Court's recent action in ruling invalid a 1961 law assessing 500% penalties for failure to list intangible property for taxation.

Both LB930 and LB931 were advanced from general file after floor debate Thursday afternoon.

LB931 rewrites and consolidates scattered penalty laws while reducing the intangible tax penalty from 500% to 200%.

An amendment appended to LB930, the refund act, provides that the taxpayer penalized under the invalid law will have two years in which to file his claim for return of the penalty.

Under an approved Carpenter amendment, the bill also was broadened to provide for refunds of taxes which have or may be collected under any law which the Supreme Court might hereafter declare to be unconstitutional.

Some Long Distance Call Rates Sliced

Rates on certain long distance telephone calls within Nebraska will be reduced again by an order of the Nebraska State Railway Commission. The reductions will be made effective within 60 days.

The commission has approved an application by Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. for lower rates patterened after reductions on between-state calls which became effective Feb. 1.

Under the new rates, the lowest charges for a station call will apply every night from 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. and all day Sunday. The maximum charge for a three-minute station call within Nebraska during those periods will be 65 cents. In most cases, the charges will be less.

New "evening rates" will apply on station calls from 6 to 8 p.m. weekdays and all day Saturday until 8 p.m., when the even lower night rates go into effect.

An earlier reduction in rates on calls within Nebraska became effective last Jan. 3. That reduction had introduced the low night rates. The new reduction extends the time periods for night rates and introduces the new evening rates. Also included in the new rate schedule are some minor adjustments for other types of long distance calls.

The effect of the two rate reductions this year will save Nebraska telephone users an estimated $225,000 annually on in-state calls, according to J. E. Olson, Northwestern Bell vice president and general manager.

Budget Review Nearing Close

. . . COUNCIL ADDS $209,800

By BOB SCHREFF
Star Staff Writer

City Council hearings on Mayor Dean Petersen's proposed fiscal 1965-66 city budget drew near a close Thursday night as the council reviewed budget requests by city utilities, Lincoln General Hospital and finance divisions.

Not including the above, the council has given tentative approval to additions to the mayor's budget amounting to $209,800, an additional increase in the tax levy of 1.01 mills.

During the lengthy hearing the council discussed, but did not approve, proposals to add $25,000-$50,000 to the auditorium budget to acquire land for parking and to increase the mill levy by one mill to initiate construction of the multi-million dollar Northeast Diagonal.

Favors Tax Funds

Councilman John Mason said he proposed financing the diagonal partly from tax funds because the project has been talked about for years and "we're going to have to build it one way or another."

Tentative approval was given to the budget requests of the following divisions:

Commercial light — The $14,840,515 request is $12,244,285 over last year's city budget, due to consolidation with Consumers Public Power District.

Acting Director of Public Utilities Lee Blocker said the combined budget "looks tremendous, and it is, but it is substantiated by tremendous revenues."

Street lighting—An increase of $12,625, up to $257,210. The budget showed increases in salaries and electric current for additional street lighting, decreases in equipment and capital improvements.

Water construction — Requests are $390,000 below the 1964-65 budget of $4,781,500. The largest new capital improvements expenditure is the $910,000 reservoir and pumping station at 77th and Vine.

Water revenue — The operating budget for the water department shows an increase of $598,575 over last year, up to $2,287,600.

Increases reflect additional costs of operations due to the growth of the city.

Sanitary sewer construction—The $1,915,000 capital improvements request is $513,000 above 1964-65.

Additions

Major projects are $1,190,000 for additions to the sewage treatment plant, already under contract, and $125,000 for extending the Beal's Slough trunk sewer from 40th to 56th.

Sanitary sewer revenue — The operating budget requested is $617,200, an increase of $90,945.

Blocker told the council that the budget is higher due to anticipated increase in personnel.

Lincoln General Hospital fund—An increase in the operating budget of $348,900, up to $2,164,100.

Almost $100,000 of the increase goes for salaries. A total of $238,485 is being requested for a separate fund to help finance the changeover from the old hospital to the new building.

Finance divisions—Budget requests for auditor ($16,710), city clerk ($30,405), tax commissioner ($20,988) and treasurer ($81,702) show very little change over last year, with some decreases.

General expense—The mayor's budget proposed an increase of $17,264, up to $247,159.

The council tentatively cut $5,000 from the mosquito abatement fund and added $10,000 for professional services.

Auditorium — The $197,706 operating budget shows an increase of $9,103 over last year.

Two Enrollees Leave Omaha Women's Corps

Omaha (AP)—The Women's Job Corps center in Omaha has lost its first two enrollees, leaving 130 at the center.

Dr. John Coakley said two girls left for their homes after staying one month. He said they were not able to adjust to the program.

"The program is strictly voluntary," he said. "When the girls don't want our services we cannot help them."

Dr. Coakley said one girl felt the corps was too much like school. "She wanted to be a beautician but didn't want to take basic education courses first."

The other, he said, could not adapt outside the security of her home and was unable to live in a residential dormitory.

One girl returned to Racine, Wis., and the other to San Francisco. He said hometown recruiters (women in community service) were asked to see that they got safely home.

Mariner 4 Photographs Show Mars Scarred With Moon-Like Craters

Wsshington (UPI)—Mariner 4 photographs released at the White House Thursday disclosed the scientifically amazing fact that Mars is pocked like the moon with craters some of which may be 2 to 5 billion years old.

One member of a five-man team of scientists which is studying the pictures said "we were shocked beyond belief" by the craters and their fine state of preservation.

The photographs, fantastically clear considering that they were transmitted to earth across nearly 135 million miles of space, were revealed to President Johnson and the nation in a ceremony televised from the East Room of the White House.

First Close-Up

They constitute man's first close-up look at another planet. The President announced them "awe-inspiring."

"It may just be," he said, "that life as we know it, with its humanity, is more unique than many had thought."

The President expressed the hope, as Mariner 4 continues its grand voyage in orbit around the sun, that "earth's billions will not set their compasses by dogmas and doctrines that reject peace."

He pinned special medals awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) on three scientists primarily responsible for the agency's lunar and planetary programs.

The 575-pound Mariner 4 left the earth on Nov. 28, 1964. It flew past Mars 228 days—nearly 7½ months—later on July 14, 1965, when the planet was 134.4 million miles from the earth.

To make its near rendezvous with Mars, Mariner had to travel 325 million miles in a curving orbital path which will carry it on around the sun.

Its nearest approach to Mars, was 6,118.4 miles. It made 22 television pictures at distances ranging from about 6,500 to 10,500 miles. The most rewarding thus far analyzed have been frames 5 through 15.

Not Settled

Whether life on earth is, indeed, unique in the universe, or even whether life of some sort exists on neighboring Mars, was by no means settled by Mariner's pictures.

But the photographs do show, scientists said, that Mars is more like the "dead" moon than the earth and provide further evidence of "the uniqueness of earth within the solar system." They disclosed no sign of the much-disputed "canals," or linear features, which some astronomers have thought they saw on the red planet.

Said Dr. Robert B. Leighton of the California Institute of Technology, leader of the group in charge of Mariner's television experiment:

"Frame No. 11 of the Mariner sequence must surely rank as one of the most remarkable scientific photographs of this age."

It shows a giant crater about 75 miles across cradling a number of smaller ones ranging down to three miles in diameter.

In all, the Mariner pictures reveal 70 clearly distinguishable craters. Some are rimmed by frost.

Considering that Mariner's camera covered only about one per cent of the Martian surface, scientists concluded the planet must bear at least 10,000 scars inflicted by huge meteorites in ages past.

Firemen Help Boy Make It To Safety

Three 16-year-old boys who will be juniors at Lincoln High School this fall brought firemen and the police to Yankee Hill Brickyard Thursday night.

The boys said they were just "messing around" and climbing the slope of an approximately 60-foot pit behind Yankee Hill when one of them, Larry Wikoff, 2956 P, got caught in a small crevice and started losing his grip.

Wikoff said rocks started falling on him and he couldn't make it up the slope. He called to his friends, who had made it to the top of the slope, for help.

The boys, Jim Still, 724 No. 30th, and Bobbie Aguirre, 3071 S, said they tried to help Wikoff, but couldn't get him up the slope so they walked to a nearby house and called the Fire Department.

The Fire Department let a rope down the slope and Wikoff used it to climb to the bottom of the pit.

Hussein Co-Pilots French Caravelle

Paris (AP)—King Hussein of Jordan left Paris flying in the co-pilot's seat aboard the first of two, new French-made Caravelles to be delivered to Royal Jordanian Airlines. The king has been in France on a private vacation.

"The acquisition of this plane is not simply a commercial operation," Hussein said before departure. "It also is a sign of the growing spirit of cooperation which is developing between France and Jordan."

Last Store Kraft Offer Rejected

Beatrice (AP)—Millman's Local 832, which has been on strike at the Beatrice Store Kraft Manufacturing Co. since early May, voted by a narrow margin to reject the latest settlement proposal offered by the company, union president George Engler said.

The proposal voted on was an amended version of proposal No. 8. Early in June the union rejected proposal No. 7 by a margin of about three-to-one.

Engler said further bargaining sessions were scheduled.

Texas Gov. John Connally, a close friend and former political protege of the President, said he spoke as chairman of the Democratic governors.

Personally, Connally said, he believes it would be "unthinkable" for U.S. troops to pull out He also said there was no justification to accelerate the war there to include use of hydrogen bombs.

Better Informed

Hatfield, who along with Romney voted against the resolution of support, said he felt the governors should have been more fully informed on the issues in Viet Nam before they took the vote

The briefing Thursday was helpful, Hatfield said. But he said he also had reservations Wednesday about whether the United States was pursuing the avenues toward peace through the United Nations.

"It does give me a much better feeling that we are pursuing this course of action," Hatfield said.

Russell Proposes $10 Boost In Combat Pay

Washington (AP) — A boost of $10 in the present special combat pay of $55 a month for U.S. fighting men was proposed Thursday by Sen. Richard B Russell, D-Ga

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he would offer this addition to a $1 billion general military pay boost approved by the House.

Opposition to the amount of increase in the House-passed measure came at the initial Senate hearing from Norman S. Paul, assistant secretary of defense for manpower. But he said he saw no objection to Russell's suggestion for higher combat pay.

Paul supported the original proposal by President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for a 5% boost in basic pay for most officers and men, instead of the House increases averaging more than 10%.

He said the proposed House increases would cost nearly $1 billion a year for the 2.6 million men and women on active duty and $1.5 million when future retirement costs are included.

The original administration proposal would cost $447 million additional plus $277 million more in future retirement benefits, Paul said.

Cruelty Charge Is Ruled Horseplay In Divorce Court

London (AP)—Pretty Janet Carrington was turned down Thursday on a plea for divorce, alleging that her husband, Stewart, had a habit of suddenly rubbing snow on her back while she was taking a hot shower.

Mrs. Carrington, 31, also testified that her mate threw cold water on her at inconvenient times, drove so recklessly in the family car that he frightened her out of her wits, and insisted on taking snapshots of her in the nude. She charged cruelty.

"No more than horseplay," ruled Justice Sir James Stirling.

Censure Of Laborites Is Voted Out

London (AP)—Labor members of the House of Commons rallied behind Prime Minister Harold Wilson Thursday night and defeated a Conservative censure motion accusing his government of failing to honor its election pledges.

With the help of the small Liberal Party, the government rolled up a margin of 21 votes The tally was 306 to 285, a larger majority than the government has scored on a major vote for weeks.

This new censure motion, second in two days, was debated on the first day that Edward Heath appeared in Commons as the Conservative Party's new leader. He faced Wilson across the aisle, smiled and held his fire for a major economic debate Monday Wilson needled him — calling him "this new Sir Galahad" at one point— but it did not disturb Heath's self-possession

Labor proposed a motion of its own to counter the Conservative challenge It praised the government on its progress in fulfilling its election pledges. The Liberals refused to back it and voted against the government. But Labor still carried the motion by four votes, 298 to 294.

U.S. 77 Rerouting Will Give State 'Most Safety, Least Inconvenience'

By JOHN DeFRAIN
Star Staff Writer

"In any road improvement somebody gets hurt," said Don Coffey design engineer for the State Highway Department, but in the proposed rerouting of U.S. 77 south of Lincoln the state will be getting the maximum in safety with the minimum of inconvenience"

The new route, to be constructed next year, was under fire by 30 property owners along 77, and Coffey, with the aid of department officials Bruce Gillan, Walter Witt, Larry Versaw and Mel Hardin, was defending the move in a meeting Thursday night.

U.S. 77 now runs straight north from the site of the old Turnpike Ballroom and Tate's Cafe. The proposed route would run diagonally west to a point almost a mile from the present road and then come back east to enter Lincoln on 14th

Costs Compared

The cost of improving the old highway would be $1,706,000 The new route would cost $1,602,000

The citizens, mostly farmers, could not see how the new route could be cheaper. The Highway Department said the new route would be only .36 of a mile longer.

Other objections raised were that the new road would go through frequently flooded land and would have to cross two railraod tracks and Salt Creek But Coffey pointed out that similar improvements would have to be made if the old highway were used. "One bridge over the railraod would cost $430,000 alone," he said.

Land 'Expensive'

The farmers also said that new land would be extremely expensive to buy "Why not use the old route?" one asked.

But Hardin said that for the new highway 200-300 feet of right-of-way would be needed and the present highway has only 66 feet.

Trade School At Sidney Approved

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

Nebraska's Legislature disposed of the pressure-packed trade school problem Thursday by approving creation of a new state-operated vocational technical school at Sidney, authorizing area development of trade schools by local initiative, and providing a measure of state aid to such area schools.

The Sidney bill passed with one vote to spare, 26-11, moments after bills to establish trade schools also at Norfolk and North Platte had been defeated on final reading.

The Norfolk bill, LB512, lost on a 17-21 vote.

The North Platte bill, carrying out a recommendation of an interim study committee, received 22 favorable votes with 12 in opposition, but needed 25 approving votes.

The Legislative Council interim study committee had recommended that North Platte get first priority on location of a new state trade school.

Nebraska presently operates only one such school, located at Milford

May Ask Review

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter abstained from voting on the Norfolk, North Platte and Sidney bills, and announced in each case he was doing so in order to be in position to move for reconsideration later

Bills had been introduced also to give trade schools to Broken Bow, Ogallala and O'Neill, but these fell by the wayside earlier.

The whole issue of more trade schools for high school graduates who want to prepare for blue collar jobs had confronted the Legislature with one of the current session's most tortured problems

In effect, the Legislature directed a two-pronged solution — a second state operated school, and enabling legislation for locally-started schools.

Approved 36-8 as the first bill in the trade school batch to be put to a final vote Thursday was LB581, chiefly sponsored by Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora, providing for area establishment of trade schools by local initiative

A companion Kremer bill, LB482, providing state aid for such area schools, ran into a bit of trouble on final reading but finally passed 31-14 with the emergency clause stricken It needed 33 votes to carry with the emergency clause attached.

LB482 directs the Legislature to appropriate up to $500,000 each biennium, out of which up to $100,000 would go to each area trade school on a matching basis. This would be supplemented also by federal funds

Before LB482 was put to a vote Thursday, Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth sought to return it to select file for an amendment under which the state aid would be a one-shot proposition, given only at the time a new area trade school is established.

As written, the bill permits continuing state aid even after the schools are operative

Ruhnke said the state aid should be an inducement to start a trade school, but not to maintain it thereafter

Future Problems

"Future legislatures will be plagued (by trade school aid requests) from here on out," Ruhnke warned.

But Ruhnke's motion to return the bill for amendment failed 17-22.

With the emergency clause attached, LB482 received a 31-13 favorable vote, but needed 33.

Giving backbone to Sidney's bill was the federal government's offer to make available without charge the facilities of the Sioux Army Depot, which is being deactivated, for the new trade school, to be known as "The Western Nebraska Vocational Technical School."

The Budget Committee has calculated that it will cost $150,000 in state tax funds to establish the Sidney school.

For schools at Norfolk and North Platte, the state cost had been estimated at $750,000 each.

Terry Carpenter Is Only Name On Tax Petition

The first income tax referendum petition was filed with the secretary of state Thursday.

It came from Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter and carried one signatue — his own.

"I'm getting tired of all these guys shoving me out of the saddle," said Carpenter, not averse to publicizing his opposition to the tax and his desire that Nebraskans get a chance to vote on it next year.

The petition effort to give Nebraskans the opportunity to vote on retention or repeal of the income tax bill passed at the current legislative session is being led by two Omaha political leaders, Republican Dick Herman and Democrat Marvin Werve.

Sen. Danner Reports Promises To Improve FEP Act

Omaha Sen. Edward R Danner said Thursday he has received commitments from several senators to work in future sessions for improvements in a fair employment practices act passed on final reading in the Legislature Tuesday

"Having faith in the promise that this can be done," Danner told lawmakers, "I accept this in good faith and, therefore, desire no further comments or action be taken at this time" concerning the bill.

Trade School At Sidney Approved

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

Nebraska's Legislature disposed of the pressure-packed trade school problem Thursday by approving creation of a new state-operated vocational technical school at Sidney, authorizing area development of trade schools by local initiative, and providing a measure of state aid to such area schools.

The Sidney bill passed with one vote to spare, 26-11, moments after bills to establish trade schools also at Norfolk and North Platte had been defeated on final reading.

The Norfolk bill, LB512, lost on a 17-21 vote.

The North Platte bill, carrying out a recommendation of an interim study committee, received 22 favorable votes with 12 in opposition, but needed 25 approving votes.

The Legislative Council interim study committee had recommended that North Platte get first priority on location of a new state trade school.

Nebraska presently operates only one such school, located at Milford.

May Ask Review

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter abstained from voting on the Norfolk, North Platte and Sidney bills, and announced in each case he was doing so in order to be in position to move for reconsideration later.

Bills had been introduced also to give trade schools to Broken Bow, Ogallala and O'Neill, but these fell by the wayside earlier.

The whole issue of more trade schools for high school graduates who want to prepare for blue collar jobs had confronted the Legislature with one of the current session's most tortured problems.

In effect, the Legislature directed a two-pronged solution — a second state operated school, and enabling legislation for locally-started schools.

Approved 36-8 as the first bill in the trade school batch to be put to a final vote Thursday was LB581, chiefly sponsored by Sen. Maurice Kremer of Aurora, providing for area establishment of trade schools by local initiative.

A companion Kremer bill, LB482, providing state aid for such area schools, ran into a bit of trouble on final reading but finally passed 31-14 with the emergency clause stricken. It needed 33 votes to carry with the emergency clause attached.

LB482 directs the Legislature to appropriate up to $500,000 each biennium, out of which up to $100,000 would go to each area trade school on a matching basis. This would be supplemented also by federal funds.

Before LB482 was put to a vote Thursday, Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth sought to return it to select file for an amendment under which the state aid would be a one-shot proposition, given only at the time a new area trade school is established.

As written, the bill permits continuing state aid even after the schools are operative.

Ruhnke said the state aid should be an inducement to start a trade school, but not to maintain it thereafter.

Future Problems

"Future legislatures will be plagued (by trade school aid requests) from here on out," Ruhnke warned.

But Ruhnke's motion to return the bill for amendment failed 17-22.

With the emergency clause attached, LB482 received a 31-13 favorable vote, but needed 33.

Giving backbone to Sidney's bill was the federal government's offer to make available without charge the facilities of the Sioux Army Depot, which is being deactivated, for the new trade school, to be known as "The Western Nebraska Vocational Technical School."

The Budget Committee has calculated that it will cost $150,000 in state tax funds to establish the Sidney school.

For schools at Norfolk and North Platte, the state cost had been estimated at $750,000 each.

Terry Carpenter Is Only Name On Tax Petition

The first income tax referendum petition was filed with the secretary of state Thursday.

It came from Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter and carried one signatue — his own.

"I'm getting tired of all these guys shoving me out of the saddle," said Carpenter, not averse to publicizing his opposition to the tax and his desire that Nebraskans get a chance to vote on it next year.

The petition effort to give Nebraskans the opportunity to vote on retention or repeal of the income tax bill passed at the current legislative session is being led by two Omaha political leaders, Republican Dick Herman and Democrat Marvin Werve.

Sen. Danner Reports Promises To Improve FEP Act

Omaha Sen. Edward R. Danner said Thursday he has received commitments from several senators to work in future sessions for improvements in a fair employment practices act passed on final reading in the Legislature Tuesday.

"Having faith in the promise that this can be done," Danner told lawmakers, "I accept this in good faith and, therefore, desire no further comments or action be taken at this time" concerning the bill.

NEWS of activity in the suburban areas

MEADOW LANE

Family reunions are always exciting especially if the entire group has not been together maybe for 15 years. This morning we have news of such a get-together in Meadow Lane. The setting for the celebration was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Holloway of 7521 Holdrege. Within three days by the use of a few long distance phone calls, the reunion of the family of Mrs. George Portsche of Seward was planned for Sunday.

Guests at the Holloway home were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Holloway and their daughter, Janice, of Savannah, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holloway of Cairo; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Holloway of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Holloway of McCool Junction, and Mr. asd Mrs. Duane Burney and their son, Curt, of Central City.

Also in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Anderson and their son, Frank of Seward; Mrs. Faye M. May and her daughter, Holly, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holloway of Ontario, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Dearold Holloway and their children, Cindy, Linda, and Gary of Chicago, Ill.

WEDGEWOOD MANOR

There was a birthday party last Friday afternoon in Wedgewood. Mary Clifton celebrated her 10th birthday with cake and all of the trimmings—plus a trip to the movies.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shephard are having company this week. Mrs. Shephard's sister, Mrs. Neal Mark flew in from Des Moines, Iowa, and with her children, Kathy and Kim, will spend a week in Lincoln. Time will also be spent with Mrs. Mark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stoehr of Lincoln. Mr. Mark will join his family next week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Norris have changed Lincoln addresses. Previously they lived at 3338 L St., but now their mailing address is 7010 So. Wedgewood. Incoming to the Wedgewood area from Omaha are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker who are in their new home at 1121 Driftwood Dr.

LINCOLN HEIGHTS

Mrs. James Sheldon and her children, Billy, Debra, and David will be leaving the area within the next few days to join Mr. Sheldon in Lompoc, Calif. where the family will reside.

There is travel news in the air from Lincoln Heights. Miss Carol Dick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Dick, will be leaving soon for Port-au-Prince, Haiti. Miss Dick will travel with other members of the First Baptist Church youth group from Lincoln and will spend 10 days in a town north of Port-au-Prince. Plans have been made for the group of high school and college students to help with a mission in the area. Miss Dick will be typing, while others will be doing other assigned duties around the mission.

Julie Hile Names Bridal Attendants

This morning Miss Julie Hile, whose marriage to David Spann will be solemnized on Saturday, Aug. 21, at Christ Methodist Church, makes announcement of the members of the bridal party.

For her maid of honor the bride-elect has chosen her sister, Miss Cheryl Hile, and Miss Mary Spann of Bassett, sister of the bridegroom, will be the bridesmaid. The candles will be lighted by Miss Karen Woodward and Miss Jan Johnson of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Craig Miller of Cedar Rapids Iowa, will be the ringbearer, and the two flower girls are Lynnette Miller of Cedar Rapids and Jill Christensen.

James Spann will serve his brother as best man, and Gary Bussinger of Bassett will be the groomsman. The guests will be seated by Lloyd German of Columbus, and Hal Dobbs of Omaha.

Among the many recent courtesies for Miss Hile was the morning coffee and paper shower for which her great-aunt, Mrs. Sue Kent, was hostess last Monday morning. The guest list included only members of the family.

And complimenting Miss Hile on July 20 were Mrs. Lyle Young, her daughter Miss Christie Young; and Mrs. Gary Abbuhl who entertained at a linen shower at the home of Mrs. Young. The guest list was composed of a group of former high school friends of the bride-elect, including Mrs. Galen Hadley (the former Marilyn Schreurs) who was a surprise to all but the hostesses. Mrs. Hadley stopped off in Lincoln en route from New York to Denver where the Hadley family now is residing.

TALK around the town

Did a quick turn around town this morning and picked up a bit of news from here and there about these and those. But the names of some of the 'these' and 'those' we can't mention for the time being—not until they are back in town from the lake, the mountain, or from one coast or the other.

We can tell you, however, that Miss Nancy Thorne will be returning home next Monday from 10 fun-packed days at Madeline Island.

During her stay at Madeline Miss Thorne has been dividing her time between Miss Avery Woods and Miss Molly O'brien.

• • •

Included among other bits of news was a word or two about Hillcrest Country Club and its women golfers. Yesterday was invitational day for the feminine golfers and we were told that it was quite a success as far as the members and guests were concerned—Golf in the morning—and luncheon afterward.

• • •

But that was yesterday. On today's calendar is a luncheon for which Mrs. Lyle Hans, Mrs. Gerald Christofferson, Mrs. Bernie Anderson and Mrs. Cedric Yoder were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Christoffersen.

The party honored Delta Gamma's Kay Anderson of Sioux City, Iowa, whose marriage to Kenneth D. Borrett, Jr., will take place on Saturday, Aug. 7. Luncheon places were arranged for 20, and the bride-elect was presented with a one-gift shower.

• • •

We are sure that there will be many who remember Gen. and Mrs. Lewis Lyle, formerly of the Lincoln Air Force Base where Gen. Lyle was in command. He now is commanding the Warren AFB in Wyoming.

All of this leads up to the fact that when Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stebbins were in Wyoming recently to attend the state's diamond anniversary, they were dinner guests of Gen. and Mrs. Lyle.

• • •

Back to yesterday for a moment — just long enough to tell you about a no hostess luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club with Miss Marjorie Mengshol of New York City as the honoree.

The eightsome included former Nebraska campus friends of Miss Mengshol, and following the luncheon the group went to the home of Mrs. William L. Beachly for an afternoon of bridge.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby: I have it on good authority that a certain girl from Houston, Texas went to the Edna Gladney Home For Unwed Mothers in Fort Worth from September 1963 until January 1964. I further understand that she went there through your suggestion and arrangements. How can I find out whether she kept her baby or not? This is important. Enclosed is a check for your trouble. If you do not accept money, please donate it to your favorite charity. Thank you very much.

NO NAME PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: All correspondence and information between those seeking help through this column and me is strictly confidential. I do not accept money and am returning your generous check.

DEAR ABBY: Doug and I haven't been married very long. We both work but are saving our money for a lot of things we need so we're on a very tight budget. We don't believe in accepting invitations unless we pay back, and when we invite people for supper we expect to furnish the eats. Well, Doug has a married sister who is very generous with her supper invitations, but this is what she does. She'll call Doug at work and ask him to pick up a few items for the supper. It's a six-pack of beer, a quart of ice cream, some potato chipss, a pound of butter or some coffee or something like that. These items are not very expensive, but they all add up. She never once offered to pay him for anything. Should we quit going to her house for supper? She must think money grows on trees.

CAN'T AFFORD HER

DEAR CAN'T: Money doesn't grow on trees, but lemons do. And you picked one for a sister-in-law. Let Doug tell her you can't afford her kind of hospitality.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What is the matter with people? We have two daughters, two years apart, who are both now in their teens. One is very much prettier than her sister, and the not-so-pretty one is getting a complex about it. When people (our adult friends) meet the girls for the first time, they rave about how beautiful one girl is right in front of both girls! I don't like the idea of telling our friends beforehand not to make any comparisons in the girls' presence, but that seems to be the only answer. How can this be tactfully done? Or would it be too insulting to instruct people as to what to say and what not to say when meeting your children?

TROUBLED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If you have any doubts about the judgment of your adult (?) friends before introducing them to your children, forewarn your friends. Those who have more sense than to make comparisons will not be offended. And those who haven't should be tipped off.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am in the worst predicament of my life. First of all, let me say that I am stationed at an Army base. I wrote two letters last week. One to my wife and the other to my girl friend. Last night my girl friend called me long distance to tell me she had received a letter from me—only it was the one meant for my wife. She was pretty mad. I had unwittingly gotten the two addresses reversed. I am going home on leave in a few days. What do you suggest I do if my wife reacts the way I think she will?

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Three Notrump. North leads the six of spades. How would you play the hand?

West		East
♠ J 7 4	N	♠ K 5
♥ A K	W E	♥ 9 8 6 4
♦ A K 9 7	S	♦ 6 4 2
♣ A Q 10 5		♣ J 9 4 3

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Five Diamonds. The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	2 ♣	3 ♦	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	5 ♦

North leads the king of clubs. How would you play the hand?

West		East
♠ A J 3	N	♠ K Q
♥ K 10	W E	♥ J 9 5 3
♦ A K 10 8 4 2	S	♦ Q J 7 5
♣ J 2		♣ A 4 3

1. Of course, if you wanted to be sure of making a spade trick, you could accomplish this quite easily by playing the five from dummy. It would not matter where the ace and queen were located; you would be certain of a spade trick sooner of later.

However, the problem here is to make three notrump, and assuring a spade trick is only a collateral consideration. To give yourself the best chance of making the contract you must play the king on the opening lead.

If it loses to the ace, it is true you are in bad shape, but you wouldn't have much chance of making the hand even if you had played the five from dummy. South would have played some card other than the ace and you would have gone down, though perhaps more peacefully.

If the king wins the opening lead, your chances rise materially, though you must still be careful what you do next. The proper play now is to lead the nine of clubs and finesse. If the finesse succeeds, you repeat it by playing the jack.

Even if South started with the K-8-7-6 of clubs, you would trap the king and make the contract. Note that if you lead the jack originally, instead of the nine, South can defeat you with proper defense. The nine is the winning play if South has the king.

2. The possible losers are two hearts and a club. North may have the A-Q of clubs. To overcome this danger, prepare for an endplay.

Win the king of clubs with the ace, draw trumps, cash the K-Q of spades, overtaking the second one with the ace and cash the jack of spades, discarding a club from dummy. Then play the jack of clubs. North wins, but is forced to lead a heart or else give you a ruff and discard.

WHY GROW OLD?

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. Is it true that you can straighten your own hair at home with a special treatment?

A. I know of no such treatment. The experts I have asked about the hair straightening process have all said that it is successful, but must be done by an operator who really knows what he is doing.

Q. I am 5 feet 1½ and weigh 112 pounds. I know I am overweight but how much? I have trouble sticking to a diet.

A. I think you must have been eating very sensibly because your weight is exactly right for your height and build. It's amazing how some of you slim gals think you are overweight!

Q. Is there anything I can do to get rid of freckles? Please don't say no.

Find Shade

A. I am sure that you have noticed that your freckles fade somewhat during winter months. They become darker and new ones appear when you are out in the summer sun a lot. Therefore, do what you can to protect your skin when outdoors. Use one of the screening lotions or creams and wear a hat which shades your face whenever possible.

Diluted lemon juice is mildly bleaching and some of the creams on the market are too. Of course you can hide the freckles with makeup when you wish to do so for special occasions.

Q. I have sent away for some isometric exercises. Now I hear that they aren't any good. Is this true?

Great Value

A. Isometric exercises are of great value. However, they do not take the place of the other kind of exercise. They build muscle strength and are slimming in that they take up the slack in lax muscles, such as the abdominal muscles, which play a part in the bulge on the tummy. This is due to lax muscles and a combination of fatty deposits.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

A sunny day in suburban Shady Acres. On the long weekends, my neighbors are charged with energy.

They repair porches. They cut lawns — put-put-put. They trim hedges and put new washers in the sinks.

We have a lot of talent and do-it-yourself people. And I still don't seem to be able to get the garden hose to stop leaking. Why is that?

☆ ☆ ☆

Last year, American men spent more than 3 billion dollars on do-it-yourself tools.

They bought electric drills and saws. (And several sawed themselves up considerably.)

"The amount spent," says a government bulletin, "was nearly one-third of all money spent on home repair and alteration."

I worked this out on an old napkin this morning. And what it means is for every three home jobs, I should do one myself.

☆ ☆ ☆

One thing I've been intending to do is put in a new shower handle.

I turn the shower handle to "Off." A little trickle of water runs out.

I give it a harder turn. The water stops.

Now I go away. I come back in five minutes and—"tap-tap-tap." There is enough water dripping to run a Chinese water torture.

Leave it for half an hour—down by the old mill stream.

I have been advised to put in a new washer. And, bless your heart, I did that once before.

The plumbing bill was fantastic. Plumbers around the suburbs are rich men. You pay them handsomely for getting up from their caviar to come over and poke around your pipes.

You pull off those handles and start fooling around with new washers—Niagara!

There is some way to shut off water while you put in a washer. But I cannot find it.

☆ ☆ ☆

I have been getting something in the sink called "detergent foam backwash."

That is tricky stuff when you get up in the morning and the sink is full of suds.

I bought a stud finder. A little thing that tells you when you are passing over a wall stud. You can hang a picture.

I passed it along the wall. You know what I think? I think there aren't any studs in this house.

The needle is supposed to swing when it hits the stud. But the needle swings all the time. Swings every whichaway.

"Can also be used as a compass." That is what it says on the stud finder. So if I need a compass, that will be a help.

☆ ☆ ☆

I bought a book — "Home Repairs Made Easy — How to do a 1000-and-one things around the house."

I have not got to the thousand yet. I am still on the one.

I also bought a set of new washers. I bought wrenches and screwdrivers. And pliers and wire snips. I have a selection of do-it-yourself tools. All ready to do my one-third of the economy.

But it wound up we had to call the plumber anyway.

Churchill Citizen Measures Given To Englishman

Resolutions declaring Sir Winston Churchill a citizen of the United States and Nebraska were presented to an English accountant by the Nebraska Legislature Thursday.

The U.S. citizenship resolution was adopted by Congress in 1963 after Nebraska had made the former English prime minister a citizen of the Cornhusker State.

Harold Pawsey of Salford, England, received the resolutions, and the pen used by the President to sign the congressional resolution.

Pawsey is representing England in the drive by the Nebraska Churchill Freedom Foundation for funds to construct an elaborate memorial to Churchill near Clearwater in northeast Nebraska.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another in this example. A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

A X Y D L B A A X R
to L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another in this example. A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Duel At 13,260 Yards

If you've been to a movie in the past five years or even in the past two weeks, you've likely seen the plot where the area is being terrorized by a local gunslinger.

So what do they do? They bring in another gunslinger from Dodge City or Gumption Flats to take care of the terrorist and they meet in a duel at 20 paces.

A similar story will unwind in Lincoln this weekend although the weapons will be golf clubs instead of guns. and the distance wil be 13,260 yards instead of 20 paces.

The scene will be Pioneers and Holmes Park Golf Courses in the Governor's Sweepstakes rather than the main street. The directors are the officers of the Lincoln Municipal Golfers Association and the fighters are Bob Astleford and Jim Colbert.

In case you don't want to buy a program, Astleford will be playing the role of the local terrorist who has won the past four Nebraska State Amateurs and has dominated the Nebraska golf scene.

The role of the imported fighter will be played by Colbert, a young insurance executive from Kansas City who won the Missouri Amateur a year ago and the Kansas Amateur this year.

Colbert Stands For Confidence

Colbert's middle name could be confidence, something that overflows in him, but it's the sincere type of confidence, not the loudmouth type such as we have to put up with in Cassius Clay.

Colbert will be coming to Lincoln for the Saturday-Sunday Governor's Sweepstakes with only one thought in mind. "He'll be tough to beat," says a friend. "Jim doesn't go anywhere just for fun."

The former Kansas State golfer, who was runner-up in the NCAA Tournament as a senior a year ago, will arrive in Lincoln late Friday night after winding up competition in the Kansas City Amateur.

Colbert trailed Rod Horn by one stroke as he prepared to go out for the third round Thursday. "There's still two rounds left," he confidently pointed out via a telephone conversation.

The Saturday-Sunday Sweepstakes is one of the few weekend tournaments Colbert will play in this year. "I miss them," he admits, "because I used to like to go to them and pick up a few prizes."

His weekend tournament activity has been hampered, however, because of bigger tournaments. He was a semi-finalist in the Trans-Miss this year, won the Kansas Amateur, was medalist in the Missouri Amateur and missed in qualifying for the U.S. Open.

Remembers Pioneers

Colbert, who teamed with Lincoln's Matt Taber to win the Heart of America two-man best-ball tournament last summer, has never played Holmes Park, but he remembers Pioneers from his collegiate days.

"I remember the No. 1 hole is a par-5 that you can reached in two and they've got a pretty good par-3 (No. 13) on the back side," he recalled.

A factor that could favor the imported golfer in the weekend duel is the nearly-constant wind problems posed at Holmes where the wind seems to blow even if flags are limp in the rest of the city.

The two-time All-American golfer as a collegian is noted for his play under windy conditions. "I guess I'm just used to playing in the wind," he explains. "The wind always seems to blow in Manhattan (home of Kansas State)."

Great Plains Swim Meet Opens Today

. . . DIVING GETS THREE-DAY PROGRAM UNDER WAY

The still water at Woods Park pool in Lincoln will explode into froth at 9 a.m. Friday as the largest swimming meet in the city's history begins a three-day stand.

At that moment, the first of 95 divers will officially begin competition in the fifth annual Great Plains AAU Age-Group and Senior Swimming and Diving Championships.

The first to take a dip will be followed by another 574 athletes who have entered 1,589 individual events. There are, for example, 150 relay teams alone swimming in the eight divisions.

There are a total of 82 events in the meet. Diving will be the sole activity Friday, but since it will require about 950 dives to settle all the age-group placings, most of the day could be used.

On Saturday, there will be 136 heats. Another 144 will follow on Sunday. And there will be 10 finals events each day in senior competition and in the Junior National men's 200-meter medley relay.

One other Junior National event, the women's one-meter springboard diving, also is scheduled.

The meet gets under way at 9 a.m. Saturday and resumes at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday's starting times are 9 a.m. and noon.

Young swimmers will be coming from all over the midwest and as far away as Hawaii, which has 20 representatives, to pick up competitive experience and, hopefully, to post sanctioned times good enough to qualify them for the national AAU meets in August.

The meet referee will be Rex Aubrey, former Australian Olympic swimmer who now is athletic director of the Detroit Athletic Club.

Max Polsky will be the starter, Bill Boyer the head finish judge and Earl Swaim the head timer.

Seating for 1,000 spectators has been erected at poolside.

UNKNOWN PRO IN LEAD

Schwab Shoots 6-Under-Par 66

. . . IN THUNDERBIRD GOLF

Harrison, N.Y. (AP)—Huge Pat Schwab, a relatively unknown club pro from West Orange, N.J., shot a spectacular 66, six under par, Thursday and grabbed the first round lead in a cavalry-charge getaway in the Thunderbird Golf Classic.

The 6-foot-3, 250-pounder, pro at the Crestmont Country Club, had a one-stroke lead over a group of six that included Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Gene Littler.

Four others, including Arnold Palmer, were another stroke back at 68.

The lushly green, carefully-manicured 6,573 yards of the plush Westchester Country Club course took a terrible beating, with more than 60 in the field of 147 beating or matching par 36-36—72.

"A piece of cake," Schwab chortled after his remarkable round that included six birdies and not a single bogey. He was out in 33 and home in the same, missing a three-foot putt on 17 that would have added another stroke to his lead.

The University of Florida graduate played on the tour in 1957 and 1958, but had to leave with tendonitis in his left shoulder, and has been in club work since then.

Morris Rides Both Horses In Fairgrounds Daily Double

. . . TAKES JOCKEY STANDINGS' LEAD

By BARRY BURKHART

Star Sports Writer

Jockey Boyd Morris took the lead in jockey standings Thursday at the Nebraska State Fairgrounds track by riding the winner in both ends of the daily double. The double returned $52.40 on the combined wins of Roman Gladiator (No. 10), a 5-1 shot in the first, and I Will Not (No. 8), the 4-5 choice of the crowd in the second.

Morris also won the third race on Tex Rullah and placed on Dream Action in the seventh and feature race. Fred Ecoffey who was tied with Morris going into Thursday's races, showed on Nicolea in the eighth.

Morris took Roman Gladiator to the lead in the backstretch of the first race and held off the bid of place horse Welch's Pal in the stretch to post a 1¾-length victory.

Welch's Pal and show horse Tri-Polly came from the pack in the turn to challenge the leader, but their bids were not good enough.

The winner paid $13.20, $6.80 and $3.60; Welch's Pal returned $3.60 and $2.80, with Tri-Polly $3.80 to show.

I Will Not challenged the leader in the backstretch of the second race, took the lead in the turn and finished well to post his 1½-length victory over Prince Ideal, the 45-1 shot place horse.

I Will Not paid $3.60, $3.00 and $2.80; Prince Ideal returned $28.00 and $13.80; Jeep Shore paid $4.80 to show.

Jockey Ray Padron also had a good day, posting wins on Chalk O' Luck, Light Message and Roman Lee in the fourth, seventh, and eighth races respectively and showing on Sir Gille in the third.

The $1,300 Shrine Day Purse was captured by Light Message, one of Padron's winners. Light Message sprinted to an early lead and opened the gap in the stretch for a three-length win over Dream Action.

The winner, owned by Ray Danner of Burlington, Kan., returned $9.20, $3.60 and $3.00; Dream Action paid $3.20 and $2.60, with Champ Dixie $4.40 to show.

The track attendance of 4,000 was up 291 people over a year ago at this time. The mutuel handle, however, was down $5,399 at $180,584.

Radican Wins Junior Golf Title Despite Double-Bogeys

By HAL BROWN

Star Sports Editor

John Radican won the Lincoln City Boys Junior Golf Tournament Thursday despite double-bogeying two of the last four holes in the final round at Holmes Park.

Radican, who went into the fourth round Thursday with a one-stroke edge on Mike Gorges in the two-man battle for the crown, won by three strokes with a final round 83 to Gorges' 85.

Radican's winning total of 330 was 42 strokes over par for the four days of play at the Lincoln Country Club, Hillcrest Country Club, Pioneers and Holmes.

The winner threatened to run away from the field after the first two days, but Gorges came through with a 78 Wednesday to issue a challenge. No one else was close to Radican and Gorges as they entered Thursday's round and 13 strokes separated Gorges from third-place finisher Gordon Jones with 346 after the golfers had toured the long Holmes Park layout.

Gorges scored the only birdies in the two-man duel, getting a birdie-2 on the 153-yard third hole and a birdie-4 on the 482-yard eighth.

Radican had three double-bogeys with a six on the 370-yard fifth, a six at the 427-yard 15th and a seven on the final 537-yard 18th.

But he won with 10 pars while Gorges was either birdieing, bogeying or double bogeying all but four of the Holmes holes. Gorges parred only the second, 11th, 14th and 18th.

Lau Notches Upset In Broadmoor Golf

Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP)—R. B. Lau of Lincoln, Neb., pulled the major upset of the day in the 44th annual Broadmoor Invitational Golf Tournament when he ousted former champion Claude Wright of Denver, 2 and 1.

The 19-year-old Lau, who has played in the Trans-Miss, the Nebraska State Amateur and now the Broadmoor in successive weeks, will meet Wright's son Gary in today's second round matches.

The younger Wright also scored an upset when he defeated Jim Hardy of Hutchinson, Kan., 1-up in 19 holes. Hardy was the runner-up in the Trans-Miss in Kansas City and had been one of the favorites here.

Defending champion Jim English of Denver advanced with an easy 6 and 5 victory over Gerry Phipps of Denver. Phipps is co-owner of the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

In other second round matches today, English will meet Larry Eaton of Greeley, Colo., and tournament co-medalist Jim Liggett of Denver takes on Tom Vickers of Wichita.

Off Again, On Again Kramer Is Off Again

Bemidji, Minn. (UPI)—The Minnesota Vikings said Thursday that All-America tackle Larry Kramer has disappeared from the team's training camp.

"This time it's adios," coach Norm Van Brocklin said.

Kramer quit the Vikings last Saturday, but changed his mind and returned to camp Wednesday.

Van Brocklin said Kramer did not appear on the practice field Thursday. He said Kramer's equipment was still in his locker.

He said he would not take Kramer back on the squad unless he had a valid reason for missing practice.

Last Saturday, Kramer said he "didn't like the game well enough to keep going," and left camp. The former University of Nebraska star then drove to Lincoln, Neb., and telephoned Vikings' general manager Jim Finks.

He told Finks he had changed his mind about quitting the team. He said he felt he had made a "big mistake" by quitting. He returned Wednesday and took part in drills.

Kramer had been drafted as a future by the Baltimore Colts. The Vikings traded linebacker John Campbell to Baltimore for the rights to Kramer.

Contacted at his home in Austin, Minn., Kramer's father said he had no idea why his son did not show up for practice. He said he had not heard from him.

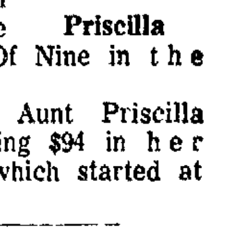
Kramer's wife also was at Austin. She had not been contacted by the former Nebraska tackle.

"We don't know anything now. We just haven't heard from him," she said.

PRISCILLA'S ON A SPREE

Well you can't win everyday.

Of course I wish I could have kept my win streak (well two good days look like a streak to me) going a little longer. You know there are only 7 days left. My how time flys.



Priscilla

Friday I plan to bet $2 to win on Quiviera in the first race and Count Of Nine in the fourth race.

(Thursday Aunt Priscilla lost $4 leaving $94 in her spree fund which started at $92.)

To Captain Golf Team

Fred McFarren of Cleburne, Tex., will captain Army's 1966 golf team.

Duel At 13,260 Yards

If you've been to a movie in the past five years or even in the past two weeks, you've likely seen the plot where the area is being terrorized by a local gunslinger.

So what do they do? They bring in another gunslinger from Dodge City or Gumption Flats to take care of the terrorist and they meet in a duel at 20 paces.

A similar story will unwind in Lincoln this weekend although the weapons will be golf clubs instead of guns. and the distance wil be 13,260 yards instead of 20 paces.

The scene will be Pioneers and Holmes Park Golf Courses in the Governor's Sweepstakes rather than the main street. The directors are the officers of the Lincoln Municipal Golfers Association and the fighters are Bob Astleford and Jim Colbert.

In case you don't want to buy a program, Astleford will be playing the role of the local terrorist who has won the past four Nebraska State Amateurs and has dominated the Nebraska golf scene.

The role of the imported fighter will be played by Colbert, a young insurance executive from Kansas City who won the Missouri Amateur a year ago and the Kansas Amateur this year.

Colbert Stands For Confidence

Colbert's middle name could be confidence, something that overflows in him, but it's the sincere type of confidence, not the loudmouth type such as we have to put up with in Cassius Clay.

Colbert will be coming to Lincoln for the Saturday-Sunday Governor's Sweepstakes with only one thought in mind. "He'll be tough to beat," says a friend. "Jim doesn't go anywhere just for fun."

The former Kansas State golfer, who was runner-up in the NCAA Tournament as a senior a year ago, will arrive in Lincoln late Friday night after winding up competition in the Kansas City Amateur.

Colbert trailed Rod Horn by one stroke as he prepared to go out for the third round Thursday. "There's still two rounds left," he confidently pointed out via a telephone conversation.

The Saturday-Sunday Sweepstakes is one of the few weekend tournaments Colbert will play in this year. "I miss them," he admits, "because I used to like to go to them and pick up a few prizes."

His weekend tournament activity has been hampered, however, because of bigger tournaments. He was a semifinalist in the Trans-Miss this year, won the Kansas Amateur, was medalist in the Missouri Amateur and missed in qualifying for the U.S. Open.

Remembers Pioneers

Colbert, who teamed with Lincoln's Matt Taber to win the Heart of America two-man best-ball tournament last summer, has never played Holmes Park, but he remembers Pioneers from his collegiate days.

"I remember the No. 1 hole is a par-5 that you can reached in two and they've got a pretty good par-3 (No. 13) on the back side," he recalled.

A factor that could favor the imported golfer in the weekend duel is the nearly-constant wind problems posed at Holmes where the wind seems to blow even if flags are limp in the rest of the city.

The two-time All-American golfer as a collegian is noted for his play under windy conditions. "I guess I'm just used to playing in the wind," he explains. "The wind always seems to blow in Manhattan (home of Kansas State)."

Great Plains Swim Meet Opens Today

. . . DIVING GETS THREE-DAY PROGRAM UNDER WAY

The still water at Woods Park pool in Lincoln will explode into froth at 9 a.m. Friday as the largest swimming meet in the city's history begins a three-day stand.

At that moment, the first of 95 divers will officially begin competition in the fifth annual Great Plains AAU Age-Group and Senior Swimming and Diving Championships.

The first to take a dip will be followed by another 574 athletes who have entered 1,589 individual events. There are, for example, 150 relay teams alone swimming in the eight divisions.

There are a total of 82 events in the meet. Diving will be the sole activity Friday, but since it will require about 950 dives to settle all the age-group placings, most of the day could be used.

On Saturday, there will be 136 heats. Another 144 will follow on Sunday. And there will be 10 finals events each day in senior competition and in the Junior National men's 200-meter medley relay.

One other Junior National event, the women's one-meter springboard diving, also is scheduled.

The meet gets under way at 9 a.m. Saturday and resumes at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday's starting times are 9 a.m. and noon.

Young swimmers will be coming from all over the midwest and as far away as Hawaii, which has 20 representatives, to pick up competitive experience and, hopefully, to post sanctioned times good enough to qualify them for the national AAU meets in August.

The meet referee will be Rex Aubrey, former Australian Olympic swimmer who now is athletic director of the Detroit Athletic Club.

Max Polsky will be the starter, Bill Boyer the head finish judge and Earl Swaim the head timer.

Seating for 1,000 spectators has been erected at poolside.

UNKNOWN PRO IN LEAD

. . . IN THUNDERBIRD GOLF

Harrison, N.Y. (AP)—Huge Pat Schwab, a relatively unknown club pro from West Orange, N.J., shot a spectacular 66, six under par, Thursday and grabbed the first round lead in a cavalry-charge getaway in the Thunderbird Golf Classic.

The 6-foot-3, 250-pounder, pro at the Crestmont Country Club, had a one-stroke lead over a group of six that included Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus and Gene Littler.

Four others, including Arnold Palmer, were another stroke back at 68.

The lushly green, carefully-manicured 6,573 yards of the plush Westchester Country Club course took a terrible beating, with more than 60 in the field of 147 beating or matching par 36-36—72.

"A piece of cake," Schwab chortled after his remarkable round that included six birdies and not a single bogey. He was out in 33 and home in the same, missing a three-foot putt on 17 that would have added another stroke to his lead.

The University of Florida graduate played on the tour in 1957 and 1958, but had to leave with tendonitis in his left shoulder, and has been in club work since then.

Morris Rides Both Horses In Fairgrounds Daily Double

. . . TAKES JOCKEY STANDINGS' LEAD

Star Sports Writer

Jockey Boyd Morris took the lead in jockey standings Thursday at the Nebraska State Fairgrounds track by riding the winner in both ends of the daily double. The double returned $52.40 on the combined wins of Roman Gladiator (No. 10), a 5-1 shot in the first, and I Will Not (No. 8), the 4-5 choice of the crowd in the second.

Morris also won the third race on Tex Rullah and placed on Dream Action in the seventh and feature race. Fred Ecoffey who was tied with Morris going into Thursday's races, showed on Nicolea in the eighth.

Morris took Roman Gladiator to the lead in the backstretch of the first race and held off the bid of place horse Welch's Pal in the stretch to post a 1 ¾-length victory.

Welch's Pal and show horse Tri-Polly came from the pack in the turn to challenge the leader, but their bids were not good enough.

The winner paid $13.20, $6.80 and $3.60; Welch's Pal returned $3.60 and $2.80, with Tri-Polly $3.80 to show.

I Will Not challenged the leader in the backstretch of the second race, took the lead in the turn and finished well to post his 1½-length victory over Prince Ideal, the 45-1 shot place horse.

I Will Not paid $3.60, $3.00 and $2.80; Prince Ideal returned $28.00 and $13.80; Jeep Shore paid $4.80 to show.

Jockey Ray Padron also had a good day, posting wins on Chalk O' Luck, Light Message and Roman Lee in the fourth, seventh, and eighth races respectively and showing on Sir Gille in the third.

The $1,300 Shrine Day Purse was captured by Light Message, one of Padron's winners. Light Message sprinted to an early lead and opened the gap in the stretch for a three-length win over Dream Action.

The winner, owned by Ray Danner of Burlington, Kan., returned $9.20, $3.60 and $3.00; Dream Action paid $3.20 and $2.60, with Champ Dixie $4.40 to show.

The track attendance of 4,000 was up 291 people over a year ago at this time. The mutuel handle, however, was down $5,399 at $180,584.

Radican Wins Junior Golf Title Despite Double-Bogeys

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

John Radican won the Lincoln City Boys Junior Golf Tournament Thursday despite double-bogeying two of the last four holes in the final round at Holmes Park.

Radican, who went into the fourth round Thursday with a one-stroke edge on Mike Gorges in the two-man battle for the crown, won by three strokes with a final round 83 to Gorges' 85.

Radican's winning total of 330 was 42 strokes over par for the four days of play at the Lincoln Country Club, Hillcrest Country Club, Pioneers and Holmes.

The winner threatened to run away from the field after the first two days, but Gorges came through with a 78 Wednesday to issue a challenge. No one else was close to Radican and Gorges as they entered Thursday's round and 13 strokes separated Gorges from third-place finisher Gordon Jones with 346 after the golfers had toured the long Holmes Park layout.

Gorges scored the only birdies in the two-man duel, getting a birdie-2 on the 153-yard third hole and a birdie-4 on the 482-yard eighth.

Radican had three double-bogeys with a six on the 370-yard fifth, a six at the 427-yard 15th and a seven on the final 537-yard 18th.

But he won with 10 pars while Gorges was either birdieing, bogeying or double bogeying all but four of the Holmes holes. Gorges parred only the second, 11th, 14th and 18th.

The championship flight:

Lau Notches Upset In Broadmoor Golf

Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP)—R. B. Lau of Lincoln, Neb., pulled the major upset of the day in the 44th annual Broadmoor Invitational Golf Tournament when he ousted former champion Claude Wright of Denver, 2 and 1.

The 19-year-old Lau, who has played in the Trans-Miss, the Nebraska State Amateur and now the Broadmoor in successive weeks, will meet Wright's son Gary in today's second round matches.

The younger Wright also scored an upset when he defeated Jim Hardy of Hutchinson, Kan., 1-up in 19 holes. Hardy was the runner-up in the Trans-Miss in Kansas City and had been one of the favorites here.

Defending champion Jim English of Denver advanced with an easy 6 and 5 victory over Gerry Phipps of Denver. Phipps is co-owner of the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

In other second round matches today, English will meet Larry Eaton of Greeley, Colo., and tournament co-medalist Jim Liggett of Denver takes on Tom Vickers of Wichita.

Off Again, On Again Kramer Is Off Again

Bemidji, Minn. (UPI)—The Minnesota Vikings said Thursday that All-America tackle Larry Kramer has disappeared from the team's training camp.

"This time it's adios," coach Norm Van Brocklin said.

Kramer quit the Vikings last Saturday, but changed his mind and returned to camp Wednesday.

Van Brocklin said Kramer did not appear on the practice field Thursday. He said Kramer's equipment was still in his locker.

He said he would not take Kramer back on the squad unless he had a valid reason for missing practice.

Last Saturday, Kramer said he "didn't like the game well enough to keep going," and left camp. The former University of Nebraska star then drove to Lincoln, Neb., and telephoned Vikings' general manager Jim Finks.

He told Finks he had changed his mind about quitting the team. He said he felt he had made a "big mistake" by quitting. He returned Wednesday and took part in drills.

Kramer had been drafted as a future by the Baltimore Colts. The Vikings traded linebacker John Campbell to Baltimore for the rights to Kramer.

Contacted at his home in Austin, Minn., Kramer's father said he had no idea why his son did not show up for practice. He said he had not heard from him.

Kramer's wife also was at Austin. She had not been contacted by the former Nebraska tackle.

"We don't know anything now. We just haven't heard from him," she said.

Partners Changed; Results Unchanged

. . . FOR SKATER DAVID TASSINARI

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

The partners change, but the results stay the same for David Tassinari, a 22-year-old fifth grade teacher from Plymouth, Mass

Tassinari won two events in the RSROA North American Roller Skating Championships a year ago and repeated in the same two events Thursday night at Pershing Auditorium.

He teamed with Diane Kern of Norwood, Mass. to capture the championship in the roller skating Pairs competition for the third consecutive year and won the dance title with his partner, Pat Fogarty of Norwood, for the second consecutive year.

But Tassinari's skill does not end with national competition. Last January in an international meet at Bakersfield, Calif., he won the Gold Skate Classic, an event judged on showmanship by judges who have had no skating experience. These judges are show people and make their decisions on that basis.

Tassinari and Miss Kern have been a team for about five years. They met at the RollLand rink in Norwood and began practicing there together. Their first year of national competition was in the intermediate class which they won. The next year they took third in the senior division and have won it ever since.

Miss Fogarty met Tassinari at the same rink just over three years ago. Since that time, they competed in Compulsory Dance for two years before winning the Free Dance competition the first year it was held—last year.

Tassinari says that skating is healthy besides being fun. "When I am roller skating, it is a physical and emotional release," he says. "It helps my whole morale."

"Skating has also brought me in contact with my children," he continues. "Seeing these children have fun on skates and talking with them as a skating friend rather than a teacher has helped me to better understand the whole child.

"Teaching is a very rewarding experience, and it is satisfying to know that I am helping to mold the children who will someday mold the world they live in."

Pepitone's Home Runs Help Yanks

New York (AP)—Joe Pepitone hit his 12th and 13th home runs of the season, each with a man on base, to spark the New York Yankees to a 7-3 victory Thursday, squaring the four-game series with the Detroit Tigers.

Mel Stottlemyre went the distance for the Yankees despite allowing 11 hits and gained his 12th triumph. He has lost five.

Although they had a man on base in every inning except one, the Tigers did not score until the seventh when Dick McAuliffe slammed a home run, his 13th of the year. Detroit added another run in the inning on successive singles by Bill Freehan, pinch hitter Gates Brown and Don Wert. McAuliffe knocked in the last Tiger run with an infield out in the eighth.

Agreement Ends Purse Dispute At Centennial

Denver (AP)—Management at Centennial Race Track and the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association reached an agreement regarding purses Thursday and horse owners headed to the entry booths to fill Saturday's 10-race card.

Horsemen have boycotted the track for four days.

The agreement called for Centennial to pay a guaranteed $10,600 daily in purses, starting with a minimum of $1,100 per race on an average wagering handle up to $230,000 for the seven days before the strike.

When the handle reaches $250,000 horsemen will receive 49% of the track's share of the total handle and breakage. After $250,000 the percentage will be 50%.

Culp Hurls 2-Hitter In Phillies' 5-0 Win

. . . PIRATES VICTIM

Pittsburgh (AP) — Ray Culp pitched a two-hitter as the Philadelphia Phillies whipped Pittsburgh 5-0 Thursday night and extended their scoreless inning string over the Pirates to 23.

Culp, notching his seventh victory in 13 decisions, gave up a single to Bill Virdon in the first inning and a single to Bob Bailey in the sixth. He retired the last 11 batters in order.

Culp struck out 10 and three Pirate pitchers fanned 16, giving the teams a major league record for total strikeouts in a nine-inning game. The old mark was 25 set in 1959 by the Los Angeles Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants.

Pittsburgh's Bob Veale, now 10-8, struck out 14 through seven innings, but he left for reliever Al McBean in the eighth after he walked Rich Allen and Bailey let Dick Stuart's grounder get by him for an error.

McBean got one out, but pinch hitter Wes Covington drove in both runners with a double, and Pat Corrales followed with a double for another run.

Chisox End Losses At 3

. . . ROMANO POWERS ATTACK

Cleveland (AP)—John Romano drove in five runs with two homers Thursday night, powering the Chicago White Sox to a 9-4 victory over Cleveland. The victory halted Chicago's three-game losing streak.

Romano's homer in the eighth inning off reliever Jack Spring was his ninth of the season. His two-run blast off starter Luis Tiant in the first scored Floyd Robinson, who singled.

Pete Ward also homered for the White Sox, slamming his sixth off Lee Stange leading off the seventh.

Larry Brown hit his fourth homer in the first inning for Cleveland. Robinson dropped Chuck Hinton's fly for a three-base error in the inning and Hinton scored on an infield out.

Don Buford scored on Robinson's single in the second after he walked and stole second to boost the White Sox lead to 4-2. Ron Hansen added another run in the third on a force out after rapping a single off reliever Floyd Weaver's leg.

Hinton scored two other Cleveland runs—in the third after singling to center and in the fifth on a single by Rocky Colavito after he had hit a ground rule double.

Nebraska Horses Win 65 Of 378 Ak-Sar-Ben Races

Omaha (AP)—Final statistics on Ak-Sar-Ben's 42-day race meeting showed that Nebraska-bred thoroughbreds won 65 of 378 races and reached a new high in financial benefits to their breeders.

Under the state law the breeder receives 3% of the first money for every purse won by a Nebraska-bred horse. Ak-Sar-Ben has voluntarily contributed another 7% of all thoroughbreds foaled in the state. This year the track contributed another amount equal to 10% of the first money to breeders of thoroughbreds both conceived and foaled in Nebraska.

This provided a record $22,602.25 to Nebraska breeders for their winning thoroughbreds, compared with $15,571 in breeders monies last year. M. H. Van Berg of Columbus had nine winners and received $4,823.50 to lead the field.

Partners Changed; Results Unchanged

. . . FOR SKATER DAVID TASSINARI

By BARRY BURKHART
Star Sports Writer

The partners change, but the results stay the same for David Tassinari, a 22-year-old fifth grade teacher from Plymouth, Mass.

Tassinari won two events in the RSROA North American Roller Skating Championships a year ago and repeated in the same two events Thursday night at Pershing Auditorium.

He teamed with Diane Kern of Norwood, Mass. to capture the championship in the roller skating Pairs competition for the third consecutive year and won the dance title with his partner, Pat Fogarty of Norwood, for the second consecutive year.

But Tassinari's skill does not end with national competition. Last January in an international meet at Bakersfield, Calif., he won the Gold Skate Classic, an event judged on showmanship by judges who have had no skating experience. These judges are show people and make their decisions on that basis.

Tassinari and Miss Kern have been a team for about five years. They met at the RollLand rink in Norwood and began practicing there together. Their first year of national competition was in the intermediate class which they won. The next year they took third in the senior division and have won it ever since.

Miss Fogarty met Tassinari at the same rink just over three years ago. Since that time, they competed in Compulsory Dance for two years before winning the Free Dance competition the first year it was held—last year.

Tassinari says that skating is healthy besides being fun. "When I am roller skating, it is a physical and emotional release," he says. "It helps my whole morale."

"Skating has also brought me in contact with my children," he continues. "Seeing these children have fun on skates and talking with them as a skating friend rather than a teacher has helped me to better understand the whole child.

"Teaching is a very rewarding experience, and it is satisfying to know that I am helping to mold the children who will someday mold the world they live in."

Pepitone's Home Runs Help Yanks

New York (AP)—Joe Pepitone hit his 12th and 13th home runs of the season, each with a man on base, to spark the New York Yankees to a 7-3 victory Thursday, squaring the four-game series with the Detroit Tigers.

Mel Stottlemyre went the distance for the Yankees despite allowing 11 hits and gained his 12th triumph. He has lost five.

Although they had a man on base in every inning except one, the Tigers did not score until the seventh when Dick McAuliffe slammed a home run, his 13th of the year. Detroit added another run in the inning on successive singles by Bill Freehan, pinch hitter Gates Brown and Don Wert. McAuliffe knocked in the last Tiger run with an infield out in the eighth.

Agreement Ends Purse Dispute At Centennial

Denver (AP)—Management at Centennial Race Track and the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association reached an agreement regarding purses Thursday and horse owners headed to the entry booths to fill Saturday's 10-race card.

Horsemen have boycotted the track for four days.

The agreement called for Centennial to pay a guaranteed $10,600 daily in purses, starting with a minimum of $1,100 per race on an average wagering handle up to $230,000 for the seven days before the strike.

When the handle reaches $250,000 horsemen will receive 49% of the track's share of the total handle and breakage. After $250,000 the percentage will be 50%.

Culp Hurls 2-Hitter In Phillies' 5-0 Win

. . . PIRATES VICTIM

Pittsburgh (AP) — Ray Culp pitched a two-hitter as the Philadelphia Phillies whipped Pittsburgh 5-0 Thursday night and extended their scoreless inning string over the Pirates to 23.

Culp, notching his seventh victory in 13 decisions, gave up a single to Bill Virdon in the first inning and a single to Bob Bailey in the sixth. He retired the last 11 batters in order.

Culp struck out 10 and three Pirate pitchers fanned 16, giving the teams a major league record for total strikeouts in a nine-inning game. The old mark was 25 set in 1959 by the Los Angeles Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants.

Pittsburgh's Bob Veale, now 10-8, struck out 14 through seven innings, but he left for reliever Al McBean in the eighth after he walked Rich Allen and Bailey let Dick Stuart's grounder get by him for an error.

McBean got one out, but pinch hitter Wes Covington drove in both runners with a double, and Pat Corrales followed with a double for another run.

Chisox End Losses At 3

. . . ROMANO POWERS ATTACK

Cleveland (AP)—John Romano drove in five runs with two homers Thursday night, powering the Chicago White Sox to a 9-4 victory over Cleveland. The victory halted Chicago's three-game losing streak.

Romano's homer in the eighth inning off reliever Jack Spring was his ninth of the season. His two-run blast off starter Luis Tiant in the first scored Floyd Robinson, who singled.

Pete Ward also homered for the White Sox, slamming his sixth off Lee Stange leading off the seventh.

Larry Brown hit his fourth homer in the first inning for Cleveland. Robinson dropped Chuck Hinton's fly for a three-base error in the inning and Hinton scored on an infield out.

Don Buford scored on Robinson's single in the second after he walked and stole second to boost the White Sox lead to 4-2. Ron Hansen added another run in the third on a force out after rapping a single off reliever Floyd Weaver's leg.

Hinton scored two other Cleveland runs—in the third after singling to center and in the fifth on a single by Rocky Colavito after he had hit a ground-rule double.

Nebraska Horses Win 65 Of 378 Ak-Sar-Ben Races

Omaha (AP)—Final statistics on Ak-Sar-Ben's 42-day race meeting showed that Nebraska-bred thoroughbreds won 65 of 378 races and reached a new high in financial benefits to their breeders.

Under the state law the breeder receives 3% of the first money for every purse won by a Nebraska-bred horse. Ak-Sar-Ben has voluntarily contributed another 7% of all thoroughbreds foaled in the state. This year the track contributed another amount equal to 10% of the first money to breeders of thoroughbreds both conceived and foaled in Nebraska.

This provided a record $22,602.25 to Nebraska breeders for their winning thoroughbreds, compared with $15,571 in breeders monies last year. M. H. Van Berg of Columbus had nine winners and received $4,823.50 to lead the field.

Park Valley Eyed By City Officials

. . . MAY BE DONATED

City officials haven't yet given up on the possibility of closed Park Valley golf course being a part of the city recreational system.

Councilman Loyd Hinkley said during a recent budget session that some northeast Lincoln interests might buy the sand greens golf course and then donate it to the city.

Acting Parks and Recreation Director James Ager said that he felt the city could operate Park Valley on a profitable basis if the sand greens were continued.

However, he added that eventually northeast Lincoln will need a complete 18-hole golf course.

Hinkley said, "I will see if I can get the Park Valley project off the ground."

Councilman Carroll Thompson, a northeast Lincoln resident, added, "We need more park improvements and also a golf course for northeast Lincoln."

City officials in the past have considered purchasing the Park Valley land for a golf course or park use but felt the price was excessive.

Ager also informed the Council that he is planning to do a comprehensive park plan for the next 20 years to have some advanced planning.

Council members and Ager also talked about eventually taking over the recreational facilities at Lincoln Air Force Base, when it closes in 1966, and provide the recreational services for the general public.

Base recreational facilities include two swimming pools, a lake, and bowling alley.

Council members said that they didn't feel that any tax funds in next year's proposed city budget would be necessary to take over the LAFB recreational facilities but funds might be needed in later years.

Recreational Superintendent Robert Dula told the Council that he was "trying to increase our recreation program in all areas."

There was some informal Council talk about expanding the ice skating program, especially during the winrer months, at the city auditorium even if there was some loss of city funds on the project.

No decision was immediately reached on the additional ice skating which would be provided by the city as a public service.

—5-RUN SEVENTH WINS—

Red Sox Push A's Deeper Into Cellar

Boston (AP) — The Boston Red Sox broke loose for five runs in a seventh inning uprising featured by Frank Malzone's pinch double Thursday in a 6-4 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Held hitless after scoring a run on three singles in the first inning, the Red Sox jumped on Diegó Segui and his successor, Don Mossi, in the decisive seventh.

A single by Felix Mantilla and a walk to Lee Thomas brought Mossi from the bullpen. Jim Gosger singled for one run and Bob Tillman delivered a sacrifice fly for another. Eddie Bressoud followed with a single to set the stage for Malzone.

The veteran third baseman, gripped in a season long batting slump, hoisted a high fly which hit the chummy left field wall close to the 315-foot mark and inches above the leap of outfielder Tom Reynolds.

Gosger and Bressoud raced home as Malzone pulled into third on the throw to the plate. Malzone then scored on a sacrifice fly by Lennie Green.

The victory was earned by Bob Duliba, the second of three Boston hurlers. Duliba checked the A's on three hits in five innings, evening his record 2-2. Mossi was the loser and now is 5-4...

Park Valley Eyed By City Officials

. . . MAY BE DONATED

City officials haven't yet given up on the possibility of closed Park Valley golf course being a part of the city recreational system.

Councilman Loyd Hinkley said during a recent budget session that some northeast Lincoln interests might buy the sand greens golf course and then donate it to the city.

Acting Parks and Recreation Director James Ager said that he felt the city could operate Park Valley on a profitable basis if the sand greens were continued.

However, he added that eventually northeast Lincoln will need a complete 18-hole golf course.

Hinkley said, "I will see if I can get the Park Valley project off the ground."

Councilman Carroll Thompson, a northeast Lincoln resident, added, "We need more park improvements and also a golf course for northeast Lincoln."

City officials in the past have considered purchasing the Park Valley land for a golf course or park use but felt the price was excessive.

Ager also informed the Council that he is planning to do a comprehensive park plan for the next 20 years to have some advanced planning.

Council members and Ager also talked about eventually taking over the recreational facilities at Lincoln Air Force Base, when it closes in 1966, and provide the recreational services for the general public.

Base recreational facilities include two swimming pools, a lake, and bowling alley.

Council members said that they didn't feel that any tax funds in next year's proposed city budget would be necessary to take over the LAFB recreational facilities but funds might be needed in later years.

Recreational Superintendent Robert Dula told the Council that he was "trying to increase our recreation program in all areas."

There was some informal Council talk about expanding the ice skating program, especially during the winter months, at the city auditorium even if there was some loss of city funds on the project.

No decision was immediately reached on the additional ice skating which would be provided by the city as a public service.

—5-RUN SEVENTH WINS—

Red Sox Push A's Deeper Into Cellar

Boston (AP) — The Boston Red Sox broke loose for five runs in a seventh inning uprising featured by Frank Malzone's pinch double Thursday in a 6-4 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Held hitless after scoring a run on three singles in the first inning, the Red Sox jumped on Diegó Segui and his successor, Don Mossi, in the decisive seventh.

A single by Felix Mantilla and a walk to Lee Thomas brought Mossi from the bullpen. Jim Gosger singled for one run and Bob Tillman delivered a sacrifice fly for another. Eddie Bressoud followed with a single to set the stage for Malzone.

The veteran third baseman, gripped in a season long batting slump, hoisted a high fly which hit the chummy left field wall close to the 315-foot mark and inches above the leap of outfielder Tom Reynolds.

Gosger and Bressoud raced home as Malzone pulled into third on the throw to the plate. Malzone then scored on a sacrifice fly by Lennie Green.

The victory was earned by Bob Duliba, the second of three Boston hurlers. Duliba checked the A's on three hits in five innings, evening his record 2-2. Mossi was the loser and now is 5-4. . .

Income Tax Drive 'Will Fall Short'

. . . PREDICTS 'FAIR TAXATION' GROUP'S HEAD

The chairman of "Nebraskans For Fair Taxation" predicted Thursday the referendum petition drive to put the state income tax issue on the November, 1966, ballot will fail

"I don't believe they will get enough signers," John Klosterman of David City said at a news conference in Lincoln.

"I think there are too many Nebraskans who understand our tax plight."

Preserve Advantage

The 29-year-old farmer and cattle feeder charged the drive is "principally backed and headed by a group of Omaha people who are seeking to preserve the advantage they have enjoyed under an archiac tax system they have enjoyed under an archiac tax system that for generations has not been matched by the ability to pay."

Klosterman said his organization, principally supported by agricultural and educational interests, will swing into a state-wide educational campaign soon on the tax issue.

Klosterman said the fair taxation campaign has no anti-Omaha overtones, but should attract the backing of many Omahans once "they realize the fact their property tax may go up 11 mills this year."

Legal Question

Klosterman also said his organization has some question as to the legality of any petitions being signed before the Legislature adjourns, and "we intend to give further study to this point."

He urged petition signers to be fully aware they are taking a stand against the income tax and not to be duped it is an impartial action just to put the tax issue on the ballot.

"Nebraskans honestly want progress for Nebraska," he said. "Necessary for that progress is a tax system which encourages, rather than discourages, the ownership of property and its use as a means of making money."

He said, "Our present property tax system makes each Nebraskan pay a high penalty for owning property because it make him virtually the sole supporter of state government."

THE 145TH GREAT-GRANDCHILD

Tony Heinemann, 86, of Dell Rapids, S. D., holds his 145th great-grandchild; Christopher Wayne Mergen, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mergen of Dell Rapirs, at a recent family reunion. It was the first time in 18 years that all 12 of Heinemann's children were together. He has 67 grandchildren, making a total of 224 living descendants.

Many Trying For Betterment Prize

The Nebraska Centennial Commission reported Thursday that many Nebraska communities and counties are working on projects which they hope will be prize winners at the annual Community-County Betterment Banquet to be held in Lincoln Nov. 11.

Cash prizes totaling $8,125 will be awarded.

The contest, sponsored by the Centennial Commission, the Division of Nebraska Resources and the University of Nebraska Extension Service, is designed to stimulate improvements in Nebraska's towns and counties.

City Congressmen Agree Callan Couldn't Vote For 14-B Repeal

Washington (UPI)—Big city congressmen agree with Rep. Clair Callan that he could not vote for a bill which would repeal a section of his state's constitution, the Nebraska Democrat said Thursday.

Callan's vote was one of the 203 cast yeasterday against a measure to repeal section 14-B of the National Labor Law. Section 14-B permits states to enact "right to work" laws which prohibit labor-management agreements that employes be required to join the union representing the workers.

The repeal bill, passed by an 18-vote margin and sent to the Senate, would nullify the right to work laws in effect in 19 states and forbid others to enact such legislation.

Callan had said earlier he might vote for it if he thought passage of the 1965 farm bill hinged on enactment of the repeal measure. He acknowledges he has heard that urban congressmen will match votes against the repeal bill with their own against the farm program when it is brought to the House floor, probably early next month.

Callan said he explained to the city pro-repeal House members that Nebraska is the only one of the 19 states whose right to work provision is constitutional. When the moment of decision came, he said, he could not support federal legislation which would repeal part of his state's constitution.

"They agreed with me that even they probably would not vote to repeal a section of their states' constitution," he said.

Callan would not comment on the repeal votes of Democratic congressmen from such right-to-work states as Iowa and North Dakota. He said, however, "We will get some urban votes for the farm bill because of rural support for the repeal measure."

These, plus the votes of some Midwestern Republicans, will be enough to pass the farm program, he predicted, "but it's going to be awfully close.

State 'Products' Include 1,400 Leading Persons

The State Division of Nebraska Resources said Thursday it has compiled a directory containing the names of more than 1,400 noteworthy persons either born, educated or now residing in Nebraska.

"As a corporation uses financial statements to measure its success," said David Osterhout, chief of the division, "so Nebraska's success is measured in its people." He called the directory Nebraska's "financial statement" of contribution to society.

The names were compiled from the 1964-65 edition of "Who's Who in America."

U Thant Assures LBJ Of Negotiation Efforts

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant told President Johnson Thursday that he is prepared to use all the means at his disposal to bring the Viet Nam problem to the negotiating table.

In a letter to the President, carried to the White House personally by U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, Thant declared:

"I believe most strongly that concerted efforts should be made to put an early end to all further hostile military activities."

Thant Reply

The secretary-general's letter was in reply to a message he received from Johnson Wednesday urging him to continue his efforts to set up Viet Nam peace negotiations. The President expressed appreciation for Thant's efforts.

Goldberg discussed the Viet Nam problem with the secretary-general Wednesday when he presented his credentials as new chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, succeeding the late Adlai E. Stevenson.

Thant was asked by newsmen whether he believed the President's new peace bid might improve chances for negotiations.

"Could be," he said.

Goldberg met some of his U.N. colleagues at a Security Council luncheon. He said the affair at the Soviet mission was purely social.

Thant's letter was sent to Goldberg at the airport as the new envoy headed back to Washington to attend a meeting of the President with the nation's governors.

Thant told the President:

"Your letter gives me much satisfaction and encouragement not only as evidence of the very great personal confidence which you have in Ambassador Goldberg but also as reassurance that your government attaches highest importance to the work of the United Nations and will continue to give the United Nations its utmost support."

He expressed satisfaction that Goldberg had been instructed to keep in close touch with the secretary-general on the Viet Nam situation.

"For my part," he said, "I will keep closely in touch with him on all important issues relating to international peace. Knowing the very great importance which I attach in the present circumstances to the question of Viet Nam, you may rest assured that I look forward to continuous mutual consultation on on this issue."

Shooting Victim Still Paralyzed, But Improving

Big Springs (AP) — Frank Kjeldgaard, the sole survivor of the Farmers State Bank shooting June 4, is still in a Denver hospital undergoing treatment and therapy.

A family spokesman said Kjeldgaard, 25, remains paralyzed below the waist but has shown improvement and the family is hopeful he will recover.

Kjeldgaard, assistant cashier at the bank, was wounded in the back and neck by a gunman who shot and killed his uncle, Andreas Kjeldgaard, 77, president of the bank; Glen Hendrickson, 59, the cashier, and Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, 34, a bookkeeper.

Duane Pope, 22, being held in the Nebraska State Penitentiary, is charged with the bank robbery and slayings.

Franco Calls Amnesty

Madrid (AP)—Prison director Jesus Gonzalez Del Hierro announced more than half of Spain's 11,845 convicts will benefit—through freedom and sentence reductions—from an amnesty ordered by Gen. Francisco Franco in connection with a holy year celebration at Santiago de Compostela, a Catholic pilgrimage center. He said all types of prisoners are affected. Spanish authorities have refused to admit they hold any political prisoners.

Youths Burn Draft Cards To Protest

New York (UPI) — About a dozen rebellious youths Thursday burned their draft cards in an elaborately-staged protest against U.S. Viet Nam policy in front of the Army-Air Force recruiting center on lower Broadway.

The youths destroyed their cards over a small flaming pot while more than 200 sympathizers applauded the action.

The group, which had marched down Broadway to participate in or observe the draft card-burning ritual, said they represented various anti-war ideologies and were protesting President Johnson's "escalation of the war in Viet Nam" and his decision Wednesday to increase the draft.

The demonstrators marched in silence, two abreast, about three-fourths of a mile from city hall to the recruiting center. They carried signs which read, "End the war in Viet Nam," "The Vietnamese revolution is not negotiable" and "Refuse to serve in the armed forces."

David Gilbert, a spokesman for the New York Committee to End the War in Viet Nam and one of the organizers of Thursday's demonstration, said the principle behind the draft card-burning was established at the Nurenberg trials at the end of World War II. At the trials, he said, it was determined that an individual should not fight in a war he considered evil.

Police accompanied the demonstrators in their march down Broadway. They observed the burning of the draft cards, but took no action.

Federal law requires that those who have been issued draft cards must carry them on their person at all times.

Direct GI Loans Out For 21 Cities, 11 State Counties

Eleven Nebraska counties and 21 cities no longer will be eligible for direct GI loans from the Veterans Administration, it was announced.

Rufus H. Wilson, manager of the regional VA office here, said eligible veterans in the areas may avail themselves of loans from several private lending outlets which now are making money available for GI loan purposes.

Wilson said the areas no longer eligible for direct loans are Burt, Cedar, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Madison, Pierce, Stanton, Thurston, and Wayne Counties. The cities are Alliance, Plattsmouth, Sidney, Schuyler, Chadron, Fremont, Beatrice, Aurora, Fairbury, Kimball, Auburn, Superior, Columbus, Falls City, Crete, Wahoo, Scottsbluff, Gering, Seward, Blair and York.

Wilson also announced that less than 10 months remain for eligible veterans to take advantage of the new GI insurance which went on sale last May.

The deadline is midnight May 2, 1966.

Wilson said more than 100,000 veterans have already applied for the new insurance.

Pillsbury Closing Its Omaha Plant

Omaha (AP) — The Pillsbury Company announced Thursday it is discontinuing food processing operations in Omaha.

David R. Hollinger, plant manager, said Aug. 20 will be the last day of production at the plant, which employs 81 persons in the manufacturing of a non-calorie sweetner and pre-sweetened beverage mix. He said the decision to move was made because there was no room to expand at the Omaha facility.

The two products will be produced at a plant recently opened at Terre Haute, Ind.

Pillsbury has been sharing the plant with Tidy House Products Company, which Pillsbury formerly owned but sold last year.

The beverage mix sales outgrew the capacity of the Omaha plant, he said. Pillsbury said its grain storage and merchandising operations in Omaha are not affected by the move.

U Thant Assures LBJ Of Negotiation Efforts

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant told President Johnson Thursday that he is prepared to use all the means at his disposal to bring the Viet Nam problem to the negotiating table.

In a letter to the President, carried to the White House personally by U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, Thant declared:

"I believe most strongly that concerted efforts should be made to put an early end to all further hostile military activities."

Thant Reply

The secretary-general's letter was in reply to a message he received from Johnson Wednesday urging him to continue his efforts to set up Viet Nam peace negotiations. The President expressed appreciation for Thant's efforts.

Goldberg discussed the Viet Nam problem with the secretary-general Wednesday when he presented his credentials as new chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, succeeding the late Adlai E. Stevenson.

Thant was asked by newsmen whether he believed the President's new peace bid might improve chances for negotiations.

"Could be," he said.

Goldberg met some of his U.N. colleagues at a Security Council luncheon. He said the affair at the Soviet mission was purely social.

Thant's letter was sent to Goldberg at the airport as the new envoy headed back to Washington to attend a meeting of the President with the nation's governors.

Thant told the President:

"Your letter gives me much satisfaction and encouragement not only as evidence of the very great personal confidence which you have in Ambassador Goldberg but also as reassurance that your government attaches highest importance to the work of the United Nations and will continue to give the United Nations its utmost support."

He expressed satisfaction that Goldberg had been instructed to keep in close touch with the secretary-general on the Viet Nam situation.

"For my part," he said, "I will keep closely in touch with him on all important issues relating to international peace. Knowing the very great importance which I attach in the present circumstances to the question of Viet Nam, you may rest assured that I look forward to continuous mutual consultation on on this issue."

Shooting Victim Still Paralyzed, But Improving

Big Springs (AP) — Frank Kjeldgaard, the sole survivor of the Farmers State Bank shooting June 4, is still in a Denver hospital undergoing treatment and therapy.

A family spokesman said Kjeldgaard, 25, remains paralyzed below the waist but has shown improvement and the family is hopeful he will recover.

Kjeldgaard, assistant cashier at the bank, was wounded in the back and neck by a gunman who shot and killed his uncle, Andreas Kjeldgaard, 77, president of the bank; Glen Hendrickson, 59, the cashier, and Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, 34, a bookkeeper.

Duane Pope, 22, being held in the Nebraska State Penitentiary, is charged with the bank robbery and slayings.

Franco Calls Amnesty

Madrid (AP)—Prison director Jesus Gonzalez Del Hierro announced more than half of Spain's 11,845 convicts will benefit—through freedom and sentence reductions—from an amnesty ordered by Gen. Francisco Franco in connection with a holy year celebration at Santiago de Compostela, a Catholic pilgrimage center. He said all types of prisoners are affected. Youths Burn Draft Cards To Protest

New York (UPI) — About a dozen rebellious youths Thursday burned their draft cards in an elaborately-staged protest against U.S. Viet Nam policy in front of the Army-Air Force recruiting center on lower Broadway.

The youths destroyed their cards over a small flaming pot while more than 200 sympathizers applauded the action.

The group, which had marched down Broadway to participate in or observe the draft card-burning ritual, said they represented various anti-war ideologies and were protesting President Johnson's "escalation of the war in Viet Nam" and his decision Wednesday to increase the draft.

The demonstrators marched in silence, two abreast, about three-fourths of a mile from city hall to the recruiting center. They carried signs which read, "End the war in Viet Nam," "The Vietnamese revolution is not negotiable" and "Refuse to serve in the armed forces."

David Gilbert, a spokesman for the New York Committee to End the War in Viet Nam and one of the organizers of Thursday's demonstration, said the principle behind the draft card-burning was established at the Nurenberg trials at the end of World War II. At the trials, he said, it was determined that an individual should not fight in a war he considered evil.

Police accompanied the demonstrators in their march down Broadway. They observed the burning of the draft cards, but took no action.

Federal law requires that those who have been issued draft cards must carry them on their person at all times.

Direct GI Loans Out For 21 Cities, 11 State Counties

Eleven Nebraska counties and 21 cities no longer will be eligible for direct GI loans from the Veterans Administration, it was announced.

Rufus H. Wilson, manager of the regional VA office here, said eligible veterans in the areas may avail themselves of loans from several private lending outlets which now are making money available for GI loan purposes.

Wilson said the areas no longer eligible for direct loans are Burt, Cedar, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Madison, Pierce, Stanton, Thurston, and Wayne Counties. The cities are Alliance, Plattsmouth, Sidney, Schuyler, Chadron, Fremont, Beatrice, Aurora, Fairbury, Kimball, Auburn, Superior, Columbus, Falls City, Crete, Wahoo, Scottsbluff, Gering, Seward, Blair and York.

Wilson also announced that less than 10 months remain for eligible veterans to take advantage of the new GI insurance which went on sale last May.

The deadline is midnight May 2, 1966.

Wilson said more than 100,000 veterans have already applied for the new insurance.

Pillsbury Closing Its Omaha Plant

Omaha (AP) — The Pillsbury Company announced Thursday it is discontinuing food processing operations in Omaha.

David R. Hollinger, plant manager, said Aug. 20 will be the last day of production at the plant, which employes 81 persons in the manufacturing of a non-calorie sweetner and pre-sweetened beverage mix. He said the decision to move was made because there was no room to expand at the Omaha facility.

The two products will be produced at a plant recently opened at Terre Haute, Ind.

Pillsbury has been sharing the plant with Tidy House Products Company, which Pillsbury formerly owned but sold last year.

The beverage mix sales outgrew the capacity of the Omaha plant, he said. Pillsbury said its grain storage and merchandising operations in Omaha are not affected by the move.

Steels And Rails Pace Sharp Rally

New York (AP) — Rails and steels paced the stock market to its sharpest rally in a month Thursday as Wall Street showed relief that more stringent measures had not been suggested by President Johnson in regard to Viet Nam.

Trading was a moderate 4.69 million shares compared with 4.77 million Wednesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 6.31 to 874.23.

Uncertainty as to how much the economy would be affected by new requirements of the conflict in Viet Nam was removed. The consensus in the financial district was that the present burgeoning economy could take it in stride, on the basis of Johnson's proposals.

At the same time, previous fears of a business recession seemed to be eliminated.

The pacemaking role of rails and steels gave the list the sort of old-fashioned leadership that bespoke confidence in the basic "meat-bread-and-potatoes" of a healthy economy.

Aerospace defense issues backtracked somewhat from recent gains although certain of these issues were greatly favored, among them Fairchild Camera, which rose 3.

The most active issue was Polaroid, up 4½ at 70 on 110,300 shares.

Greater earnings by U.S. Steel and Bethlehem helped those stocks as well as others in the group.

Airlines, however, were weak due to the Civil Aeronautics Board advisory that earnings gains by the air carriers should prompt them to consider fare reductions.

This brought some heavy trading in the group. American Airlines, down 2⅜, and United Air Lines, down 2⅞, were among the most active issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 2.8 to 323.0 with industrials up 2.8, rails up 3.1 and utilities up .9.

Of 1,362 issues traded, 816 rose and 309 fell. New highs for the year totaled 29 and new lows 42.

Eight of the 15 most-active stocks rose, 6 fell and Alleghany Corp. was unchanged.

Among railroads, Great Northern rose 2, Chicago & North Western 3⅜; Atlantic Coast Line 1⅝, New York Central 1⅞, Pennsylvania Railroad 1¼, Baltimore & Ohio 1⅜ and Illinois Central 1⅛.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Treasury bonds declined rather sharply.

Grain Market Prices Show Little Change

Chicago (AP) — Uneasiness about the Vietnamese situation still was a considerable factor in the grain futures market Thursday and prices showed little change generally on the Board of Trade.

Brokers described speculators as reluctant to press the market from either side and said they traded rather cautiously, neither expanding nor shortening commitments significantly.

Soybeans declined about a cent in early transactions but the offerings then were rather limited and quickly absorbed. Thereafter, nearly all contracts held fairly steady within small fractions either way of previous closes.

New crop corn and soybeans finished with small gains while other grains closed steady to slightly easier.

At the close, wheat was unchanged to ½ cent a bushel lower, September $1.46½; corn ⅜ lower to ½ higher, September $1.25¼-⅛; oats ⅛-¼ lower, September 67¼-⅛ [illegible]; rye unchanged to ⅜ lower, September $1.16½ bid; soybeans 1 cent higher to ¼ lower, August $2.76¼-76.

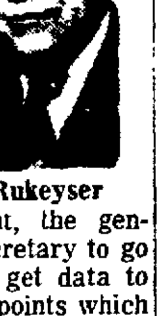
10-Year Forecast Reminds Writer Of Smuts Anecdote

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

In reading the forecast of economic America in 1975 by two representatives of the United States Savings and Loan Association, this writer recalled an anecdote about General Juan Smuts, onetime premier of the Union of South Africa.



Rukeyser

Prior to a speech planned for the next day before Parliament, the general asked his secretary to go to the library to get data to illustrate certain points which he expected to make in his speech. The aide after many hours of research reported: "General, no man alive could formulate such data in less than five year."

Next day, nevertheless, the general made an eloquent address, which he illustrated with an amplitude of statistical detail. Everyone was impressed, but none so much as his secretary. "General," he asked him, "where did you get all that wonderful information?"

The prime minister replied: "I made some rough estimates. Since you told me that it would take five years to accumulate the data, I figured it would take that long for anyone to check up on me.

It will take 10 years to check up on the crystal gazing of Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the United States Savings and Loan League and on his economic consultant, Dean Arthur M. Weimer.

Population Rise

These seers predict that the national population will climb 31 million to 226 million and that gainful employment will jump by 1.65% a year, with unemployment continuing around 5.5%.

The ratio of people in the work force is not expected to change significantly, but these men expect that the proportion of female workers to the total will gain slightly.

They expect residential construction to go up from $27 billion to $42.8 billion.

Put these predictions in your hat band and compare the forecasts with the actualities ten years hence.

Balance Sheet

In weighing the economic outlook, Reno Odlin, Tacoma financier and president of the American Bankers Association, strikes a balance sheet.

"On the plus side," he points out, "we still have (1) the highest level of capital expenditures for new plant and equipment ever put forth in peacetime by industry; (2) a level of consumer confidence perhaps never before equaled anywhere; (3) a continuing rising trend in corporate profits; and (4) a continuing rise in expendable private income.

"On the cautious side we still have (1) a status quo situation in new family formation which will average between 900,000 and 1,000,000 for the next five years; (2) sharply rising consumer debt coinciding with a steady decline in the quality of that debt; (3) the probability of some satiation in consumer demand for durables, automobiles in particular; and (4) price and wage pressures that suggest the need for some concern about possible inflation.

"In the face of these facts it is not confidence we worry about but over-confidence.

"One of the best safeguards against inflation is free competition, a product of a free enterprise society. History demonstrates that runaway inflation more often has occurred in an authoritarian society than in a free society. Intense competition in the market place by consumers—both international and national — combined with willingness of a free society to invest in diversification and expansion, as at the present, represents probably the best safeguard against inflation."

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Steels And Rails Pace Sharp Rally

New York (AP) — Rails and steels paced the stock market to its sharpest rally in a month Thursday as Wall Street showed relief that more stringent measures had not been suggested by President Johnson in regard to Viet Nam.

Trading was a moderate 4.69 million shares compared with 4.77 million Wednesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 6.31 to 874.23.

Uncertainty as to how much the economy would be affected by new requirements of the conflict in Viet Nam was removed. The consensus in the financial district was that the present burgeoning economy could take it in stride, on the basis of Johnson's proposals.

At the same time, previous fears of a business recession seemed to be eliminated.

The pacemaking role of rails and steels gave the list the sort of old-fashioned leadership that bespoke confidence in the basic "meat-bread-and-potatoes" of a healthy economy.

Aerospace defense issues backtracked somewhat from recent gains although certain of these issues were greatly favored, among them Fairchild Camera, which rose 3.

The most active issue was Polaroid, up 4½ at 70 on 110,300 shares.

Greater earnings by U.S. Steel and Bethlehem helped those stocks as well as others in the group.

Airlines, however, were weak due to the Civil Aeronautics Board advisory that earnings gains by the air carriers should prompt them to consider fare reductions.

This brought some heavy trading in the group. American Airlines, down 2⅜, and United Air Lines, down 2⅞, were among the most active issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 2.8 to 323.0 with industrials up 2.8, rails up 3.1 and utilities up .9.

Of 1,362 issues traded, 816 rose and 309 fell. New highs for the year totaled 29 and new lows 42.

Eight of the 15 most-active stocks rose, 6 fell and Alleghany Corp. was unchanged.

Among railroads, Great Northern rose 2, Chicago & North Western 3⅜; Atlantic Coast Line 1⅝, New York Central 1⅞, Pennsylvania Railroad 1¼, Baltimore & Ohio 1⅜ and Illinois Central 1⅛.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Grain Market Prices Show Little Change

Chicago (AP) — Uneasiness about the Vietnamese situation still was a considerable factor in the grain futures market Thursday and prices showed little change generally on the Board of Trade.

Brokers described speculators as reluctant to press the market from either side and said they traded rather cautiously, neither expanding nor shortening commitments significantly.

Soybeans declined about a cent in early transactions but the offerings then were rather limited and quickly absorbed. Thereafter, nearly all contracts held fairly steady within small fractions either way of previous closes.

New crop corn and soybeans finished with small gains while other grains closed steady to slightly easier.

At the close, wheat was unchanged to ½ cent a bushel lower, September $1.46½; corn ⅜ lower to ½ higher, September $1.25¼-⅛; oats ⅛-¼ lower, September 67¼-⅛ [illegible]; rye unchanged to ⅜ lower, September $1.16½ bid; soybeans 1 cent higher to ⅛ lower, August $2.76¼-76.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

10-Year Forecast Reminds Writer Of Smuts Anecdote

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

In reading the forecast of economic America in 1975 by two representatives of the United States Savings and Loan Association, this writer recalled an anecdote about General Juan Smuts, one-time premier of the Union of South Africa.

Rukeyser

Prior to a speech planned for the next day before Parliament, the general asked his secretary to go to the library to get data to illustrate certain points which he expected to make in his speech. The aide after many hours of research reported: "General, no man alive could formulate such data in less than five year."

Next day, nevertheless, the general made an eloquent address, which he illustrated with an amplitude of statistical detail. Everyone was impressed, but none so much as his secretary. "General," he asked him, "where did you get all that wonderful information?"

The prime minister replied: "I made some rough estimates. Since you told me that it would take five years to accumulate the data, I figured it would take that long for anyone to check up on me.

It will take 10 years to check up on the crystal gazing of Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the United States Savings and Loan League and on his economic consultant, Dean Arthur M. Weimer.

Population Rise

These seers predict that the national population will climb 31 million to 226 million and that gainful employment will jump by 1.65% a year, with unemployment continuing around 5.5%.

The ratio of people in the work force is not expected to change significantly, but these men expect that the proportion of female workers to the total will gain slightly.

They expect residential construction to go up from $27 billion to $42.8 billion.

Put these predictions in your hat band and compare the forecasts with the actualities ten years hence.

Balance Sheet

In weighing the economic outlook, Reno Odlin, Tacoma financier and president of the American Bankers Association, strikes a balance sheet.

"On the plus side," he points out, "we still have (1) the highest level of capital expenditures for new plant and equipment ever put forth in peacetime by industry; (2) a level of consumer confidence perhaps never before equaled anywhere; (3) a continuing rising trend in corporate profits; and (4) a continuing rise in expendable private income.

"On the cautious side we still have (1) a status quo situation in new family formation which will average between 900,000 and 1,000,000 for the next five years; (2) sharply rising consumer debt coinciding with a steady decline in the quality of that debt; (3) the probability of some satiation in consumer demand for durables, automobiles in particular; and (4) price and wage pressures that suggest the need for some concern about possible inflation.

"In the face of these facts it is not confidence we worry about but over-confidence.

"One of the best safeguards against inflation is free competition, a product of a free enterprise society. History demonstrates that runaway inflation more often has occurred in an authoritarian society than in a free society. Intense competition in the market place by consumers—both international and national — combined with willingness of a free society to invest in diversification and expansion, as at the present, represents probably the best safeguard against inflation."

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

South Platte Rise Likely In 3 Days At North Platte

North Platte (AP)—A rise in the South Platte Riven is expected at North Platte in about three days, but no flooding is indicated.

The Weather Bureau said Thursday the water apparently results from heavy rains along the Bijou Creek watershed in Colorado over the weekend.

Current expectations are that the flow will remain constant for a week or two, with a stage at North Platte of seven to seven and one-half feet, about three feet below the peak stage hit in June, also from Colorado run-off water.

Canadian Death Rate On Highways Higher

Toronto (AP)— Canada has a higher highway death rate than the United States, the Safety League reports, and League Manager Fred H. Ellis says it's because Canadians are not taught to drive properly in school.

"In the U.S.," he said, "half the high schools have been giving driver-education courses for decades." The League said Canada last year had 9.2 deaths per 100 million vehicular miles traveled compared with a U.S. rate of 5.7.

South Platte Rise Likely In 3 Days At North Platte

North Platte (AP)—A rise in the South Platte Riven is expected at North Platte in about three days, but no flooding is indicated.

The Weather Bureau said Thursday the water apparently results from heavy rains along the Bijou Creek watershed in Colorado over the weekend.

Current expectations are that the flow will remain constant for a week or two, with a stage at North Platte of seven to seven and one-half feet, about three feet below the peak stage hit in June, also from Colorado run-off water.

Canadian Death Rate On Highways Higher

Toronto (AP)— Canada has a higher highway death rate than the United States, the Safety League reports, and League Manager Fred H. Ellis says it's because Canadians are not taught to drive properly in school.

"In the U.S.," he said, "half the high schools have been giving driver-education courses for decades." The League said Canada last year had 9.2 deaths per 100 million vehicular miles traveled compared with a U.S. rate of 5.7.

Opinion On Time Sales Law Told

The State Justice Department Thursday answered a series of questions from State Banking Director Henry Ley concerning the new Installment Sales Act adopted earlier this year.

The department said the "notice to buyer" required by the act must be placed in a conspicuous place on the installment sales contract. The notice alerts the buyer not to sign the contract until he has read all of it.

The department said the notice can be placed on the reverse side of a contract if necessary, but "a subterfuge which would spread out a short contract to cover the front side of the paper for the sole purpose of putting the required notice on the reverse side would be a very doubtful compliance with the law."

The department also said:

—When a buyer makes prepayment in full before maturity of an obligation, the refund to the buyer does not include a proportionate amount for the balance of month of payment.

—Contracts prepaid in full must be marked "cancelled."

—The time price for seasonal payment schedules may be calculated as for an equal monthly payment schedule and then applied to the seasonal schedule.

—The holder of a retail installment contract cannot collect an attorney's fee in court action on the contract unless another specific law authorizes it.

—When a contract holder makes subsequent purchases, a "memorandum" specified in the Installment Sales Act must be signed by both the buyer and the seller.

The opinion was written by Assistant Atty. Gen. Richard Williams and approved by Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer.
